Miscellaneous.

RESOLUTION—No. 4787Misc.

Calcutta, the 3rd March 1937.

In 1934, the Governor in Council accepted the recommendation of the special committee appointed to examine the future administration of the district of Noakhali that the headquarters of the district should be moved to Maijdi. The move was, however, postponed as the conditions at Noakhali appeared to be improving and it was hoped that it might be unnecessary to move the headquarters of the district. Although there are indications that the main stream of the Meghna has temporarily ceased to be so active in the immediate vicinity of the town, conditions during high tides, when the town is inundated, are, in the opinion of the Governor in Council, such that it is necessary that effect should now be given to the previous decision to move the headquarters of the district, and he has decided that Maijdi shall be declared immediately the permanent headquarters of the Noakhali district, and that steps are to be taken to remove the headquarters to that place at an early date.

Ordered that a copy of this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order the Govenor in Council,

J. B. KINDERSLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal (offg.).

(a) the receptacles shall be stored in a dry and well ventilated place;

(b) due precautions shall be taken to prevent unauthorized persons from having access to the carbide;

(c) notice shall be given of such storage to the District Authority; and

(d) where a fixed generator is used on the premises, detailed instructions as to the care and use of the generator shall be kept constantly posted up in a place where they can conveniently be referred to by the generator attendant.

(2) No licence shall be required for the temporary storage of carbide within port limits under such conditions as the Conservator of the Port may specify.

22. Storage buildings.—(1) Carbide shall be stored—

(a) if in quantities aggregating not more than 500 pounds—in a suitable uninhabited building at least 20 feet away from any other premises: provided that quantities not exceeding 250 pounds may be stored in a place connected with a shop at a distance not less than 10 feet from any other premises:

(b) if in quantities aggregating more than 500 pounds and not more than 3,000 pounds—in a suitable uninhabited building at least 40 feet away from any other premises;

(c) if in quantities aggregating more than 3,000 pounds—in an uninhabited building at least 100 feet away from any other premises.

(2) Not more than fifty tons of carbide shall be stored in any one building.

23. Power to reduce distances.—The distances laid down in sub-rule (1) of rule 22 may be reduced by the Chief Inspector where screen walls are provided or other special precautions are taken or where there are special circumstances that in the opinion of the Chief Inspector warrant the reduction.

24. Construction of storage buildings.—Every building for the storage of carbide shall be—

(a) constructed of non-inflammable material, with non-inflammable roofs and with tiled, paved, cemented, iron or steel floors raised at least a foot above the ground level; and

(b) well ventilated and water-tight to the satisfaction of the licensing authority.

25. Arrangements in storage buildings.—Carbide shall be stored only on racks or trestles standing at least one foot above the level of the floor of the building, and no articles of an inflammable or combustible nature shall be kept in the same building.

26. Disposal of carbide if wet.—If any carbide becomes wet it shall be destroyed by being submerged in deep water. If deep water is not available, the wet carbide shall be spread out in the open in an isolated position, and all precautions shall be taken to prevent any fire or artificial light or article capable of igniting acetylene being brought near until the material has given off all its gas.

NOTE.—The fact of carbide having become wet will be indicated by the outward appearance of the drum, and probably by a disagreeable odour, showing a leakage of gas.

27. Precautions by vendor.—(1) Every vendor of carbide delivering any quantity exceeding half a pound to any person, shall deliver it to him in a prescribed receptacle.

(2) No vendor shall open more than one receptacle at a time for the purpose of delivering carbide.

28. Children.—No person under the age of 15 years shall be employed in or allowed to enter any premises licensed under these rules.

CHAPTER V.

Manufacture of Acetylene Gas.

29. Application of Chapter.—(1) The rules in this Chapter shall be observed by every person holding a licence for the storage of carbide granted under these rules who uses such carbide for the manufacture of acetylene gas.

(2) In this Chapter, apparatus means any appliance for the manufacture of acetylene gas, including all generators and gas-holders and the devices for preventing the passage of oxygen into the acetylene supply pipes, the pipe lines and the other fittings.

30. Construction of apparatus.—(1) The apparatus shall be so constructed that lime sludge cannot gain access to any pipes intended for the passage of gas or the circulation of water.

(2) The use of glass in water gauges, sight boxes, etc., shall be avoided, but where glass is absolutely necessary as part of the apparatus it shall be effectively protected against fracture.

(3) The apparatus shall be so constructed that it is not possible, even by incorrect manipulation of cocks, to seal the generating chamber hermetically.

(4) The air-space in a generator shall be as small as is consistent with the proper working of the apparatus.

(5) No metal containing more than 80 per cent. of copper shall be present in any portion of the apparatus excluding the nozzles of the blow pipes.

(6) The various parts of the apparatus shall be of adequate strength to withstand any pressures that may be generated therein.

(7) The size of the pipes carrying the gas shall be proportioned to the maximum rate of generation, so that undue back pressure from throttling may not occur.

31. Efficiency of apparatus.—The apparatus shall have an efficiency of at least 90 per cent.

32. Temperature of apparatus.—The temperature of any part of the apparatus, when working, shall not exceed 180°F.

NOTE.—The temperature may be ascertained by placing short lengths of wire, drawn from fusible metal of a suitable melting point in those parts of the apparatus in which heat is liable to be generated.

33. Pressure.—(1) The apparatus used shall not be made to work at a pressure exceeding 60 inches water column:

Provided that, if it be shown to the satisfaction of the licensing authority that a higher pressure is necessary in any generating apparatus and that such higher pressure may be used without danger, the licensing authority may allow the use of higher pressure up to a maximum of 250 inches water column on the condition that the apparatus is fitted with suitable safety devices. A generator operating at a higher pressure than 60 inches water column shall have clearly marked on it the water column at which it works.

(2) In the use of the apparatus, regard shall be had to the danger of stoppage of passage of the gas and a consequent increase of pressure.

34. Precautions against escape of gas.—(1) Adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent any escape of gas from the apparatus.

(2) Gas-holders shall be fitted with blow off pipes carried up to a suitable point in the open air.

35. Decomposition of carbide.—(1) The carbide shall be completely decomposed in the apparatus, so that the lime sludge discharged therefrom shall not be capable of generating more gas.

(2) The apparatus shall give no tarry or other heavy condensation products from the decomposition of the carbide.

36. Residue.—(1) An open tank shall be provided in the open air for the reception of all residue from the carbide: and such residue shall remain for at least ten hours in not less than four times its bulk of water in such tank.

(2) Precautions shall be adopted for preventing any lime sludge from being discharged into the drains.

37. Attendants.—(1) No person shall have charge of an apparatus until he has been properly instructed in its management.

(2) A label or printed card giving fully detailed instructions in the vernacular as to the use of the apparatus and a certificate by the licensee to the effect that the attendant who shall be mentioned by name has been properly instructed as required by sub-rule (1), shall be exhibited on or in close proximity to the apparatus.

CHAPTER VI.

(2) This power shall not be exercised by the District Authority without the prior concurrence of the Chief Inspector.

42. Amendment of licence.—(1) Any licence granted under these rules may be amended by the authority granting such a licence provided that the amendments are not in conflict with any of these rules.

(2) A licensee who desires to have his licence amended shall submit it to the licensing authority with an application stating the nature of the amendment and the reasons for it.

(3) The fee for the amendment of a licence shall be one rupee plus the amount (if any) by which the fee that would have been payable if the licence had originally been issued in the amended form exceeds the fee paid for the original licence.

43. Renewal of licence.—(1) A licence may be renewed by the authority empowered to grant such a licence.

(2) Every application for the renewal of a licence shall be made not less than 30 days before the date on which the original licence expires, and, if the application is so made, the premises shall be held to be duly licensed until such date as the licensing authority issues the renewed licence or until an intimation that the renewal of the licence is refused has been communicated to the applicant.

(3) The same fee shall be charged for the renewal of a licence as for a new licence.

44. Refusal of licence.—(1) A licensing authority refusing to grant, amend or renew a licence, shall record his reasons for such refusal in writing.

(2) A copy of the order containing the reasons for such refusal shall be given to the applicant on payment of a fee of one rupee.

45. Cancellation of licence.—(1) Every licence granted under these rules shall be liable to be cancelled by the authority granting such a licence for any contravention of the Act, or of any rule made thereunder, or of any condition contained in such licence.

(2) The authority cancelling a licence shall record his reasons for so doing in writing.

(3) Every appeal shall be in writing and shall be accompanied by a copy of the order against which the appeal is made.

(4) The appeal shall be presented within 30 days when the order appealed against has been passed by the District Authority and within 60 days when the order has been passed by the Chief Inspector.

47. Transfer of licence for storage.—(1) The holder of a licence for the storage of carbide may, at any time before the expiry of the licence, apply for permission to transfer his licence to another person.

(2) Such application shall be made to the licensing authority who shall, if he approves of the transfer, enter upon the licence, under his signature, an endorsement to the effect that the licence has been transferred to the person named.

(3) A fee of one rupee shall be charged on each such application.

(4) The person to whom the licence is so transferred shall enjoy the same powers, and be subject to the same obligations under the licence as the original holder.

48. Procedure on death or disability of licensee.—(1) If a licensee dies or becomes insolvent or mentally incapable or otherwise disabled, the person carrying on the business of such licensee shall not be liable to any penalty or confiscation under the Act or these rules for exercising the powers granted to the licensee by the licence during such time as may reasonably be required to allow him to make an application for a new licence in his own name for the unexpired portion of the original licence.

(2) A fee of one rupee shall be charged for a new licence for the unexpired portion of an original licence granted to any person applying for it under this rule.

29. (1) A Civilian Executive Officer appointed to the Service under rule 28 shall be required to pass a departmental examination in accordance with the provisions of rule 8. Such officer shall be on probation until he has successfully passed the departmental examination.

(2) If at the end of two years from the date of appointment the officer has not successfully passed the departmental examination his services shall be dispensed with.

3. After Appendix I to the said rules, the following Appendix shall be added, namely:—

"APPENDIX II.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SERVICE FOR EXECUTIVE OFFICERS HOLDING THE VICEROY'S COMMISSION OR BELONGING TO THE INDIAN TERRITORIAL FORCE WHO ARE APPOINTED TO THE CANTONMENT EXECUTIVE OFFICERS SERVICE.

1. An Executive Officer appointed under these rules shall, if he has not already passed the departmental examination for officers of the Cantonments Department, be required to pass the departmental examination, the syllabus of which is prescribed in Appendix I, by the lower standard within two years from the date he was first appointed in an officiating capacity as an Executive Officer of the Cantonments Department and by the higher standard within a further period of one year. Failure to pass the examination within the prescribed period will entail removal from the Service. 30 per cent. of the total number of marks in each paper will be required to pass by the lower standard and 75 per cent. by the higher standard.

2. Pay.—He will receive Rs. 400 per mensem on first appointment rising by annual increments of Rs. 20 to Rs. 500. Service in the Cantonments Department will be reckoned as service for pay and increments of pay. Increments up to Rs. 500 per mensem will be sanctioned by the General Officer Commanding-in-Chief, the Command, subject to the recommendation of the Director, Military Lands and Cantonments. The salary of an officer appointed to the Selection Grade will be governed by rule 13.

3. An officer who has successfully passed the departmental examination will be required to retire from the army and will receive the honorary rank of Captain on the analogy of the provisions in paragraph 732 of the Regulations for the Army in India. The grant of honorary rank will not, however, entitle him to a higher rate of pay or pension than that provided in this appendix.

On retirement from the army, which will entail the relinquishment of his commission, he will assume civilian status and will be subject to all general regulations affecting civil officers including the Government Servants' Conduct Rules. He will be ineligible to return to military duty at any future date. Retirement from the Army will not, however, affect him in any way as regards pay, pension, etc., as laid down in this appendix.

4. Leave.—His turlough and leave will be governed by the Civil Service Regulations from the date on which he was confirmed in the Cantonments Department or is appointed to the service provided that he has successfully passed the departmental examination.

5. Pension.—The pension of an officer recruited from the regular Indian Army will be:—

Rs. 200 per mensem provided that he has rendered

(1) 10 years combined departmental service in the Cantonments Department and the Cantonment Executive Officers Service, and

(2) 30 years, or, if invalided, 25 years, combined army and departmental service.

Note.—All service will count from 20 years of age, or from the first date of Army service irrespective of rank, whichever is later.

An Executive Officer who does not qualify for the above pension will be entitled, subject to the usual conditions of satisfactory service, to the ordinary pension he would have earned if he had remained in the Army, his service in the Cantonments Department and in the Cantonment Executive Officers Service counting as Army qualifying service for that pension.

An officer recruited from the Indian Territorial Force will not be entitled to any pension.

6. Provident Fund.—An officer recruited from the Indian Territorial Force will be required to subscribe to the Provident Fund in accordance with rule 19.

An officer recruited from the regular Indian Army shall not be entitled to subscribe to the Cantonment Provident Fund."

PART VI

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly, and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 19th February, 1937:—

L. A. BILL No. 11 OF 1937.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, for a certain purpose.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, for the purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:— IX of 1908.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Limitation (Amendment) Act, 1937.

Amendment of Article 149, First Schedule to Act IX of 1908.

2. In Article 149 in the First Division of the First Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, to the entry in the first column the following words shall be added, namely:— IX of 1908.

"except a suit before the Federal Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Article 149 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 (IX of 1908), prescribes a special period of limitation of 60 years for any suit by or on behalf of the Secretary of State for India in Council. This Article will in future govern suits by a Province against a Province or between a Province and the Federation. The reasons which justify a specially long period of limitation for suits by the Crown against a private person hardly seem applicable where both parties represent the Crown. It is, therefore, necessary to amend the Article by excluding from its scope suits brought before the Federal Court in the exercise of its original jurisdiction.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 19th February, 1937:—

L. A. BILL No. 13 OF 1937.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Army Act, 1911, for a certain purpose.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Army Act, 1911, for the purpose hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:— VIII of 1911.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Indian Army (Amendment) Act, 1937.

Amendment of section 2, Act VIII of 1911.

2. In section 2 of the Indian Army Act, 1911,— VIII of 1911.

(a) to clause (a) of sub-section (1) the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that a person holding a commission in the Army in India Reserve of Officers shall be so subject only when ordered on any duty or service for which he is liable as a member of such reserve force.": and

(b) to sub-section (2) the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that an officer of the Indian Land Forces retired therefrom and appointed to the Indian Regular Reserve of Officers shall again become so subject when ordered on any duty or service for which he is liable as a member of such reserve force."

*The Governor General has been pleased to accord the sanction required by section 67 (2) of the Government of India Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 175 (9) of the Army Act, officers of the British wing of the Army in India Reserve of Officers are only subject to military law when called out in a military capacity. There is no corresponding provision in the Indian Army Act for officers in the Indian wing of the Army in India Reserve of Officers. It is proposed, therefore, to amend the Indian Army Act, 1911 (VIII of 1911), to put officers of the Indian wing in exactly the same position as officers in the British wing.

2. When Indian Commissioned Officers retire, they are liable under certain conditions to join the new Indian Regular Reserve. There is however no provision in the Indian Army Act for the subjection to military law of a retired officer who is in this Reserve. This defect is being remedied, but at the same time steps are being taken to ensure that such officers will only be subject to military law when ordered on any duty or service for which they are liable as members of the Reserve.

RESOLUTION—No. 7142L.R.

Calcutta, the 22nd March 1937.

Read—

The report of the Board of Revenue, Bengal, on the administration of the Wards, Attached and Trust Estates in the Presidency of Bengal for the year 1342 B.S. (1935-36).

1. At the beginning of the year under report the total number of estates under the management of the Court of Wards was 125. Seven new estates were brought under management of the Court and 3 estates were released during the year. Thus at the close of the year there were 129 estates in charge of the Court.

2. Out of the aggregate of Rs. 89,75,727 due to Government as revenue and cesses, a sum of Rs. 73,05,186 or 81·3 per cent. of the total was paid during the year, as against 80·2 per cent. in the previous year. The defaults accrued in heavily encumbered estates where the collections were insufficient to meet the pressing liabilities.

3 The total current demand due to the estates on account of rent and cesses was Rs 183·92 lakhs and arrear demand Rs 305·43 lakhs The total sum collected was Rs. 171·68 lakhs representing 35·0 per cent. of the total demand or 93·3 per cent of the current demand against 34·8 per cent. and 95 4, respectively, in the preceding year. The fall in the percentage of collection in certain estates in Chittagong is attributed to the continuance of comparatively low prices in that district.

Though the collection in Kasimbazar Estate is still below the standard, there has been an improvement in the last two years with a resulting improvement in the general position of that estate.

4. The total amount of ascertained debts of the Court of Wards Estates in the Presidency at the close of the year under report stood at Rs. 2,89,41,124 against Rs. 3,39,69,781 in the preceding year. The principal repaid or otherwise reduced was Rs. 44,20,325 and the interest paid or otherwise reduced Rs. 17,18,584 as compared with Rs. 22,25,315 and Rs. 16,40,257, respectively, in the previous year

5. The percentage of cost of management of the estates in the whole Presidency on their current rent and cess demand was 11·8 as against 9·7 of the preceding year. Law expenses rose from Rs. 10·60 lakhs in 1934-35 to Rs 11·69 lakhs.

6. The total sum spent during the year under the heads Schools, dispensaries and works of improvement amounted to Rs. 5,52,269 against Rs. 5,83,122 in the preceding year.

7. The thanks of the Governor in Council are due to the Board of Revenue for the efficient administration of the estates under the management of the Court of Wards. He also notices with pleasure the work done by the Managers mentioned in the report.

Order.—Ordered that the resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor in Council,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal (offg.).

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Dacca, the 23rd March 1937.

Forecast of the Rabi Crops of Bengal for 1936-37.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1934-35, the area under summer rice in Bengal has represented some 0·4 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India.)

Character of the season.—Good rainfall in October facilitated the preparatory tillage for and sowing of the crops which commenced generally in the normal time. Subsequent dry weather since November proved helpful to the germination and growth of the crops. In the middle part of February heavy rainfall caused some damage to the crops especially in some districts of West and North Bengal. On the whole, the season has been a fairly favourable one for the crops this year.

Acreage.—The normal area under the different rabi crops dealt with in this forecast is estimated at 3,518,000 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 3,221,800 acres as against 3,036,400 acres last year. Of this, the area under summer rice is reported at 432,300 acres as against 403,700 acres last year and that under tobacco is 307,300 acres as against 307,100 acres last year.

Outturn.—According to District Officers' estimates, the average outturn of the different rabi crops for the province, as a whole, works out at 84 per cent. of the normal as against 76 per cent. last year, the outturn for the more important rabi districts being as follows:—

Mymensingh 100, Dacca 80, Rangpur 90, Murshidabad 76, Faridpur 82, Pabna 79, Noakhali 75, Rajshahi 78, Bakarganj 100, Tippera 70, Nadia 66, Jalpaiguri 84, Malda 80, Bogra 75, Jessore 58 and Khulna 80.

Summer rice and tobacco crops.—The outturn of summer (boro) rice, according to District Officers' estimates, is 92 per cent. of the normal as against 85 per cent. last year. The gross yield of the crop for the province on a basis of the normal yield of 15 maunds of clean rice per acre is estimated at 219,200 tons this year as against 189,100 tons last year.

The outturn of tobacco crop is estimated at 88 per cent. of the normal as against 79 per cent. last year. Taking 14½ maunds as the normal yield of the crop per acre, the gross yield of the crop for the province this year is estimated at 144,000 tons as against 129,200 tons last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

INDIA.

INSTRUCTIONS passed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet to the Governor of Bengal.

Dated 8th March 1937.

GEORGE R. I.

INSTRUCTIONS to Our Governor for the time being of Bengal.

GIVEN at Our Court at Buckingham Palace the Eighth day of March 1937 in the First year of Our Reign.

WHEREAS by Letters Patent bearing date the Fifth day of March Nineteen hundred and thirty-seven We have made permanent provision for the Office of Governor of Bengal:

AND WHEREAS by those Letters Patent and by the Act of Parliament passed on the second day of August, Nineteen hundred and thirty-five and entitled the Government of India Act, 1935 (hereinafter called "the Act"), certain powers, functions and authority for the government of the Province of Bengal are declared to be vested in the Governor as Our Representative:

AND WHEREAS, without prejudice to the provision in the Act that in certain regards therein specified the Governor shall act according to instructions received from to time from Our Governor-General, and to the duty of Our Governor to give effect to instructions so received, We are minded to make general provision regarding the due manner in which Our said Governor shall execute all things which, according to the Act and the said Letters Patent, belong to his Office, and to the trust which We have reposed in him:

AND WHEREAS a draft of these Instructions has been laid before Parliament in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section fifty-three of the Act and an Address has been presented to Us by both Houses of Parliament praying that instructions may be issued in the terms of these Instructions:

NOW, THEREFORE, We do by these Our Instructions under Our Sign Manual and Signet declare Our pleasure to be as follows:—

A.—INTRODUCTORY.

I. Under these Our Instructions, unless the context otherwise require, the term "Governor" shall include every person for the time being acting as Governor according to the provisions of the Act.

II. Our Governor for the time being shall, with all due solemnity, cause Our Commission under Our Sign Manual appointing him to be read and published in the presence of the Chief Justice for the time being, or, in his absence, other Judge, of the High Court of the Province.

III. Our said Governor shall take the oath of allegiance and the oath for the due execution of the Office of Our Governor of Bengal, and for the due and impartial administration of justice, in the form hereto appended, which oaths the Chief Justice for the time being, or in his absence any Judge, of the High Court, shall, and he is hereby required to, tender and administer unto him.

IV. And We do authorise and require Our Governor, by himself or by any other person to be authorised by him in that behalf, to administer to every person appointed by him to hold office as a member of the Council of Ministers the oaths of office and of secrecy hereto appended.

V. And We do further direct that every person who under these Instructions shall be required to take an oath may make an affirmation in place of an oath if he has any objection to making an oath.

VI. And whereas great prejudice may happen to Our service by the absence of Our Governor, he shall not quit India during his term of office without having first obtained leave from Us under Our Sign Manual or through one of Our Principal Secretaries of State.

B.—IN REGARD TO THE EXECUTIVE AUTHORITY OF THE PROVINCE.

VII. In making appointments to his Council of Ministers Our Governor shall use his best endeavours to select his Ministers in the following manner, that is to say, to appoint in consultation with the person who in his judgment is most likely to command a stable majority in the Legislature those persons (including so far as practicable members of important minority communities) who will best be in a position collectively to command the confidence of the Legislature. In so acting, he shall bear constantly in mind the need for fostering a sense of joint responsibility among his Ministers.

VIII. In all matters within the scope of the executive authority of the Province, save in relation to functions which he is required by or under the Act to exercise in his discretion, Our Governor shall in the exercise of the powers conferred upon him be guided by the advice of his Ministers, unless in his opinion so to be guided would be inconsistent with the fulfilment of any of the special responsibilities which are by the Act committed to him, or with the proper discharge of any of the functions which he is otherwise by or under the Act required to exercise in his individual judgment; in any of which cases Our Governor shall, notwithstanding his Ministers' advice, act in exercise of the powers by or under the Act conferred upon him in such manner as to his individual judgment seems requisite for the due discharge of the responsibilities and functions aforesaid. But he shall be studious so to exercise his powers as not to enable his Ministers to rely upon his special responsibilities in order to relieve themselves of responsibilities which are properly their own.

IX. Our Governor shall interpret his special responsibility for the safeguarding of the legitimate interests of minorities as requiring him to secure, in general, that those racial or religious communities for the members of which special representation is accorded in the Legislature, and those classes of the people committed to his charge who, whether on account of the smallness of their number or their primitive condition or their lack of educational or material advantages or from any other cause, cannot as yet fully rely for their welfare upon joint political action in the Legislature, shall not suffer, or have reasonable cause to fear, neglect or oppression. But he shall not regard as entitled to his protection any body of persons by reason only that they share a view on a particular question which has not found favour with the majority.

Further, Our Governor shall interpret the said special responsibility as requiring him to secure a due proportion of appointments in Our Services to the several communities, and, so far as there may be in his Province at the date of the issue of these Our Instructions an accepted policy in this regard, he shall be guided thereby, unless he is fully satisfied that modification of that policy is essential in the interests of the communities affected or of the welfare of the public.

X. In the discharge of his special responsibility for the securing to members of the public services of any rights provided for them by or under the Act and the safeguarding of their legitimate interests Our Governor shall be careful to safeguard the members of Our Services not only in any rights provided for them by or under the Act or any other law for the time being in force, but also against any action which, in his judgment, would be inequitable.

XI. The special responsibility of Our Governor for securing in the sphere of executive action any of the purposes which the provisions of Chapter III of Part V of the Act are designed to secure in relation to legislation shall be construed by him as requiring him to differ from his Ministers if in his individual judgment their advice would have effects of the kind which it is the purpose of the said Chapter to prevent, even though the advice so tendered to him is not in conflict with any specific provision of the Act.

XII. Our Governor shall construe his special responsibility for the protection of the rights of any Indian State as requiring him to see that no action shall be taken by his Ministers which would imperil the economic life of any State, or affect prejudicially any right of any State heretofore or hereafter recognised, whether derived from treaty, grant, usage, sufferance or otherwise: and he shall refer to Our Governor-General any questions which may arise as to the existence of any such right.

XIII. In the framing of rules for the regulation of the business of the Provincial Government Our Governor shall ensure that, amongst other provisions for the effective discharge of that business, due provision is made that the Finance Minister shall be consulted upon any proposal by any other Minister which affects the finances of the Province: and further that no reappropriation within a Grant shall be made by any Department other than the Finance Department, except in accordance with such rules as the Finance Minister may approve; and that in any case in which the Finance Minister does not concur in any such proposal the matter shall be brought for decision before the Council of Ministers. He shall further in those rules make due provision to secure that prompt attention is paid to any representation received by his Government from any minority.

XIV. Having regard to the powers conferred by the Act upon Our Secretary of State to appoint persons to Our service if, in his opinion, circumstances arise which render it necessary for him so to do in order to secure efficiency in irrigation, Our Governor shall make it his care to see that he is kept constantly supplied with information as to the conduct of irrigation in his Province in order that he may, if need be, place this information at the disposal of Our Governor-General.

XV. In the exercise of the powers by law conferred upon him in relation to the administration of areas declared under the Act to be Excluded or Partially Excluded Areas, or to the discharge of his special responsibility for the safeguarding of the legitimate interests of minorities, Our Governor shall, if he thinks this course would enable him the better to discharge his duties to the inhabitants of those areas or to primitive sections of the population elsewhere, appoint an officer with the duty of bringing their needs to his notice and advising him regarding measures for their welfare.

C.—Matters affecting the Legislature.

XVI. In determining whether he shall in Our name give his assent to, or withhold his assent from, any Bill Our Governor shall, without prejudice to the generality of his power to withhold his assent on any ground which appears to him in his discretion to render such action necessary or expedient, have particular regard to the bearing of the provisions of the Bill upon any of the special responsibilities imposed upon him by the Act.

XVII. Without prejudice to the generality of his powers as to reservation of Bills, Our Governor shall not assent in Our name to, but shall reserve for the consideration of Our Governor-General, any Bill of any of the classes herein specified, that is to say:—

(a) any Bill the provisions of which would repeal or be repugnant to the provisions of any Act of Parliament extending to British India;

(b) any Bill which in his opinion would, if it became law, so derogate from the powers of the High Court as to endanger the position which that Court is by the Act designed to fill;

(c) any Bill regarding which he feels doubt whether it does, or does not, offend against the purposes of Chapter III of Part V or section 299 of the Act;

(d) any Bill which would alter the character of the Permanent Settlement.

And in view of the provisions in this clause of these Our Instructions, it is Our will and pleasure that if his previous sanction is required under the Act to the introduction of any Bill of the last-mentioned description Our Governor shall not withhold that sanction to the introduction of the Bill.

XVIII. It is Our will that the power vested by the Act in Our Governor to stay proceedings upon a Bill, clause or amendment in the Provincial Legislature in the discharge of his special responsibility for the prevention of grave menace to peace and tranquillity shall not be exercised unless, in his judgment, the public discussion of the Bill, clause or amendment would itself endanger peace and tranquillity.

XIX. It is Our will and pleasure that the seats in the Legislative Council to be filled by the nomination of Our Governor shall be so apportioned as in general to redress, so far as may be, inequalities of representation which may have resulted from election, and in particular to secure representation for women and the Scheduled Castes in that Chamber.

D.—General.

XX. And generally Our Governor shall do all that in him lies to maintain standards of good administration; to promote all measures making for moral, social and economic welfare and tending to fit all classes of the population to take their due share in the public life and government of the Province; and to secure amongst all classes and creeds co-operation, goodwill and mutual respect for religious beliefs and sentiments; and he shall further have regard to this Instruction in the exercise of the powers by law conferred upon him in relation to matters whether of legislation or of executive government.

XXI. And We do hereby charge Our Governor to communicate these Our Instructions to his Ministers and to publish the same in his Province in such manner as he may think fit.

APPENDIX.

FORM OF OATH OF ALLEGIANCE.

I, , do swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to His Majesty, King George the Sixth, Emperor of India, His Heirs and Successors, according to law.

So help me God.

FORM OF OATH OF SECRECY FOR MINISTERS.

I, , do swear that I will not directly or indirectly communicate or reveal to any person or persons any matter which shall be brought under my consideration, or shall become known to me as a Minister in Bengal, except as may be required for the due discharge of my duties as such Minister or as may be specially permitted by the Governor in the case of any matter pertaining to the functions to be exercised by him in his discretion.

Presentation of report and procedure after presentation.

41. (1) Every report by a select committee on a Bill, shall be presented to the Council by the Chairman of the committee.

(2) In presenting a report the Chairman shall, if he makes any remarks, confine himself to a brief statement of fact.

(3) After the presentation of the final report, the member in charge may move—

(i) that the Bill as reported by the select committee be taken into consideration, but any member may object to its being so taken into consideration if a copy of the report has not been available for the use of members for seven days, and such objection shall prevail, unless the President in exercise of his power to suspend this order allows the report to be taken into consideration ; or

(ii) that the Bill be recommitted either—

(a) without limitation, or

(b) with respect to particular clauses or amendments only, or

(c) with instructions to the select committee to make some particular or additional provision in the Bill.

(4) If the member in charge moves that the Bill be taken into consideration, any member may move as an amendment that the Bill be recommitted.

Proposal of amendments.

42. When a motion has been agreed to by the Council that a Bill be taken into consideration, any member may propose an amendment of such Bill.

Notice of amendments.

43. (1) Any member who wishes to move an amendment to any Bill under the consideration of the Council shall send written notice thereof to the Secretary so as to reach him at least ten days before the first day on which the Bill is to be taken into consideration by the Council and shall, together with the notice send a copy of the amendment which he desires to move.

(2) The Secretary shall, if time permits, cause every notice of a proposed amendment to be printed, and a copy shall be made available for the use of each member.

(3) If any member present is unacquainted with English the Secretary, shall also, if requested, and if time permits cause every such notice to be translated into such vernacular language as the President may direct.

Order of amendments.

44. Amendments shall ordinarily be considered in the order of the clauses of the Bill to which they respectively relate.

Submission of Bill clause by clause.

45. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing orders, it shall be in the discretion of the President when a motion that a Bill be taken into consideration has been carried, to submit the Bill, or any part of the Bill, to the Council clause by clause. When this procedure is adopted, the President shall call each clause separately, and, when the amendments relating to it have been dealt with, shall put the question "that this clause, or (as the case may be) this clause as amended, stand part of the Bill."

Passing of Bills.

46. (1) If no amendment be made when a motion that a Bill be taken into consideration has been agreed to by the Council, the Bill may at once be passed.

(2) If any amendment be made, any member may object to the passing of the Bill at the same meeting ; and such objection shall prevail, unless the President in exercise of his powers to suspend this standing order allows the motion that the Bill be passed to be made.

(3) Where the objection prevails, the Bill shall be brought forward again at a future meeting ; and may then be passed with or without further amendment.

47. When a Bill is passed by the Council the Secretary shall, if necessary, renumber the clauses, revise and complete the marginal notes thereof and make such purely formal consequential amendments therein as may be required and a copy of the Bill shall be submitted to the President and shall be signed by him.

Assent to Bill and publication of Bill as Act.

49. (1) When a Bill which has been passed is returned by the Governor to the Council for reconsideration, the point or points referred for reconsideration or the amendments recommended shall be put before the Council by the President and shall be discussed and voted upon in the same manner as amendments to a Bill or in such other way as the President may consider most convenient for their consideration by the Council.

Reconsideration of Bills returned by the Governor.

(2) An amendment may be moved at this stage notwithstanding that it raises a question substantially identical with one on which the Council has already given a decision in the same session.

(3) No amendments other than the amendments referred to the Council by the Governor shall be admissible at this stage.

50. The member in charge of a Bill may at any stage of the Bill move that the Bill be withdrawn, and, if such motion be carried, the Bill shall be withdrawn accordingly.

Withdrawal of Bills.

Notice of resolutions.

Provided that the President, with the consent of the Minister in charge of the Department concerned may allow a resolution to be entered on the list of business at shorter notice than twenty-one days;

Provided also that no member shall, unless he has obtained the special permission of the President, be permitted to send in notice of more than three resolutions during one session of the Council.

Restrictions on the form and contents of resolutions.

54. Subject to the restrictions contained in the rules and the provisions of the standing orders, any member may move a resolution relating to a matter of general public interest :

Provided that no resolution shall be admissible which does not comply with the following conditions, namely :

(a) it shall be clearly and precisely expressed and shall raise a definite issue ;

(b) it shall not contain arguments, inferences, ironical expressions or defamatory statements, nor shall it refer to the conduct or character of persons except in their official or public capacity ; and

(c) it shall not refer to any matter which is under adjudication by a court of law.

Procedure on motion to withdraw.

55. (1) A member in whose name a resolution appears on the list of business shall, when called on, either—

(a) withdraw the resolution, in which case he shall confine himself to a mere statement to that effect, but may make such brief statement of his reasons for withdrawal as he may consider necessary ; or

(b) move the resolution, in which case he shall commence his speech by a formal motion in the terms appearing in the list of business.

(2) If the member when called on is absent, the resolution standing in his name shall be considered to have been withdrawn :

Provided that the President in his discretion, may allow another member to move such resolution, or may postpone it.

Limits of discussions.

56. The discussion of a resolution shall be strictly limited to the subject of the resolution.

Amendments.

57. When a resolution is under discussion, any member may, subject to all the rules and orders relating to resolutions, move an amendment to such resolution.

Notice of amendment.

58. (1) If a copy of such amendment has not been sent to the Secretary seven days before the day fixed for the discussion of the resolution, any member may object to the moving of the amendment, and such objection shall prevail, unless the President in exercise of his power to suspend this order allows the amendment to be moved.

(2) The Secretary shall, if time permits, cause every amendment to be printed, and send a copy for the information of each member.

Limitation of time of discussion of resolution

59. (1) The President may, if he thinks fit, allot the maximum limit of time which shall be available for the discussion of any resolution of a private member on any day allotted for the discussion of such resolutions.

(2) As soon as the maximum limit of time for discussion is reached, the President shall forthwith put every question necessary to dispose of the resolution under discussion.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (4) of standing order 28, the President may, in the case of any resolution for the discussion of which he has allotted the maximum time under sub-section (1), prescribe a time-limit for speeches shorter than that referred to in that standing order.

Procedure for taking a resolution out of turn.

60. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (2) of standing order 11, on the written requisition of not less than twenty-three members that a resolution be taken out of its turn on a day allotted for the discussion of resolutions of private members the resolution shall, with the consent of the President and the Minister in charge of the Department concerned, be given precedence on that day over all other resolutions for which a ballot has been held :

Provided that not more than one resolution shall be given such precedence in any one session of the Council.

(2) If more than one such requisition is received in respect of any one day, and the consent required by sub-section (1) is obtained thereto, a special ballot shall be held in such manner as the President may direct to determine which of the resolutions specified in such requisitions shall be given precedence on that day.

(3) A resolution shall not have precedence under this Standing Order or any day unless the Minister concerned has received at least six days' notice, and the members at least twenty-four hours' notice, from the Secretary, that the resolution will be given precedence on that day :

Provided that, with the consent of the President, six days' notice shall not be necessary if the Minister agrees to accept shorter notice.

Time of asking leave.

61. Leave to move a motion for the adjournment of the business of the Council for the purpose of discussing a definite matter of urgent public importance must be asked for after questions and before the list of business for the day is entered upon.

Method of asking leave.

62. The member asking leave must hand to the President a written statement of the matter proposed to be discussed, and must annex thereto the consent of the President in writing, to his motion.

Procedure to be followed.

63. If the President is of opinion that the matter proposed to be discussed is in order, and if it has not been disallowed under the rules, the President shall read the statement to the Council and ask whether the member has the leave of the Council. If no objection is taken, the President shall intimate the hour at which the motion will be taken. If objection is taken, he shall request those members who support the motion to rise in their places, and, if not less than thirteen members rise accordingly, he shall similarly intimate the hour. If less than thirteen members rise, the President shall inform the member that he has not the leave of the Council.

Limitation of time of discussion.

64. (1) The debate on a motion to discuss a matter of urgent public importance if not earlier concluded shall automatically terminate at the end of two hours, and thereafter no question can be put.

(2) No speech during the debate shall exceed fifteen minutes in duration.

Discussion of Budget.

65. No discussion of the Budget shall take place on the day on which it is presented.

Giving of notice.

66. (1) Every notice required by the rules or standing orders shall be given in writing, addressed to the Secretary and may be left at the Council office, which shall be open for this purpose between the hours of 11 and 3 o'clock on every day, except Sunday or a public holiday, or may be posted.

N. G. A. EDGLEY,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

JUDICIAL AND LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENTS.

Judicial.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 2549J.—1st April 1937.—The Governor is pleased to issue the following directions regarding the appointment and remuneration of the Advocate-General of the Province of Bengal and the duties to be referred or assigned to him, namely:—

Advocate-General.

1. Terms and conditions of appointment.—(a) The Advocate-General is the Chief Legal Adviser of the Government of Bengal. Subject to the provisions of section 55 of the Government of India Act, 1935, his appointment shall ordinarily be for a term of five years, but terminable earlier on six months' notice by either the Governor or the Advocate-General and renewable at the option of the Governor at the end of the period. Such renewals shall not be restricted in number but shall never exceed five years at a time. He will receive a monthly retainer of Rs. 2,000 which will cover all his work of an advisory nature as well as the duties enumerated in Rule 3 post.

(b) During any absence or deputation of the Advocate-General, the Governor may appoint a person to act as Advocate-General and the person so appointed will receive the full amount of the retainer of the post and exercise all the powers of an Advocate-General until his predecessor in office has returned to his duties.

2. Statutory powers and functions.—The Statutory powers and functions vested in the Advocate-General, Bengal, are as follows:—

(i) East Indian Company Act, 1813, 53 Geo. 3, c. 155, s. III; power to file information for debts due to the Crown.

Note.—This power was kept alive by section 2 of the Government of India Act, 1833, and again by section 1 of the Government of India Act, 1853, merged in the Government of India Act, 1858.

This has not been limited or affected by the Code of Civil Procedure (section 79 of Code).

(ii) Civil Procedure Code, Act V of 1908, s. 91; power to institute and sanction suits in respect of public nuisances.

(iii) Civil Procedure Code, section 92; power to institute and sanction suits in cases of public trusts of a charitable or religious nature.

All Collectors and Deputy Commissioners are empowered under section 93 of the Civil Procedure Code to exercise within the limits of their respective districts (excluding the town of Calcutta) the power conferred by sections 91 and 92 of the Code.

(Eastern Bengal and Assam Government notification No. 704J., dated the 22nd February 1909, and Bengal Government notification No. 3592L.R., dated the 15th April 1918.)

These notifications do not, however, divest the Advocate-General, Bengal, of his powers under sections 91 and 92 though these enable them also to be exercised by the above officers of the Local Government.

(iv) Indian High Courts Act, 1861, Letters Patent for the High Court, 1865, clause 26; power to certify for review of criminal cases tried on the Original Side of the High Court on ground of error of law.

(v) Criminal Procedure Code, Act V of 1898, section 333; power to stay proceedings in the High Court at any stage of a criminal trial.

(vi) Criminal Procedure Code, section 194 (2); power (with the previous consent of the Government of India or of the Local Government) to exhibit information for all purposes for which the Attorney-General may exhibit information on behalf of the Crown in the High Courts of Justice in England.

Note.—The Attorney-General has power to exhibit ex-officio criminal information (as a mode of instituting criminal proceedings without indictment by a Grand Jury) in any case of misdemeanour as distinguished from felony.

(vii) Criminal Procedure Code, section 495 (1); the right to conduct a prosecution before any Magistrate without permission of the Magistrate.

(viii) Lunacy Act, IV of 1912, section 39; power to make application for inquisition in Lunacy.

3. Duties without fees.—In addition to the duties the Advocate-General has to perform under English and Indian Statutes, he shall perform without fees the following duties:—

(i) He will advise upon any matter upon which he is consulted by the Governor through the Government Solicitor, the Legal Remembrancer or the Standing Counsel.

(ii) He will appear in the following civil cases:—

(a) Cases in the ordinary or extraordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court to which the Province is a party.

(b) Cases in the ordinary or extraordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court to which Government officers are parties and which the Governor has decided to conduct on behalf of such officers.

(c) Cases in the ordinary or extraordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court in which neither the Governor nor Government officers are directly interested, but in which the Governor considers himself to be sufficiently interested to render it advisable to conduct the cases on behalf of some third person.

This does not include cases of the Court of Wards, Calcutta Corporation, Calcutta Improvement Trust, Calcutta Port Trust or any other public corporate body. Cases of such quasi-public departments as the Board of Examiners are however included.

(d) Original cases of the same nature as those referred to in items (a), (b) and (c) originally filed in some other Court and transferred to the High Court.

(iii) Appeals from the cases referred to in clause (ii).

(iv) He will appear in the High Court (Original Side) in the references under the Stamp Act, Probate Act and the like.

(v) He will similarly appear when so required before the High Court on its Original Side in references from the Presidency Small Causes Court Judges to which the Province is a party or can otherwise be heard.

Note.—In all the above cases the Advocate-General will be at liberty should he be so disposed, to claim his fees if recovered from the other party.

(vi) He will represent the Crown at all stages in all criminal cases arising within the ordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court, whether the Tribunal be a Judge and Jury or a Special Tribunal and in all quasi-criminal matters such as cases under the Press Act, Habeas Corpus and Extradition cases arising within the same limits provided always that the Governor considers that owing to the special importance of the case the attendance of the Advocate-General is desirable.

Note.—Ordinary criminal prosecutions in the High Court are left to the Standing Counsel.

4. Scale of fees.—The Advocate-General will appear in any case other than those mentioned in rule 3 when so required by the Legal Remembrancer, and will be paid fees according to the following scale:—

(i) Appearance in the High Court—

(a) Regular civil appeals, criminal appeals, miscellaneous proceedings in which evidence is taken or the hearing of which extends for the whole day—30 gold mohurs.

Note.—Analogous criminal appeals and references arising from the same judgment shall be deemed to be one appeal or reference for the purpose of this rule.

(b) Second appeals, miscellaneous appeals motions and other miscellaneous proceedings except those mentioned above—15 gold mohurs.

Note—Analogous second appeals and application arising from the same judgment shall be deemed to be one appeal or application for the purpose of this rule.

(c) Appearance before special benches of the Calcutta High Court if the case is one arising outside the limits of Ordinary Original Jurisdiction of the High Court—30 gold mohurs.

(ii) Appearance in Calcutta outside the High Court such as appearances in the Police Court, Small Causes Court or Board of Revenue—30 gold mohurs.

(iii) Appearances in Howrah, Alipore, Sealdah or elsewhere in the suburbs of Calcutta—45 gold mohurs.

(iv) Appearance in the mufassal outside the above limits—60 gold mohurs.

(v) Consultation fee in cases for appearance in which fees are payable each—5 gold mohurs.

Note.—Ordinarily one consultation fee only will be allowed. The Legal Remembrancer, however, before delivering the brief will, after consulting the lawyer-in-charge of the case, form an estimate of the number of consultations which may be necessary and will inform the Advocate-General accordingly. This number may be increased in a proper case at the instance of the Advocate-General and on a reference to the Legal Remembrancer. If in the course of a trial or appeal an immediate consultation becomes necessary, the Advocate-General will be entitled to hold the same and will inform the Legal Remembrancer without delay.

(vi) Perusal fee.—No fee is ordinarily admissible.

Note.—The Legal Remembrancer, however, after consulting the lawyer-in-charge of the case may recommend a special perusal fee, if claimed, in cases of complexity involving prolonged labour, which will be fixed by the Governor exercising his individual judgment.

(vii) When two or more regular civil appeals are heard together on the Appellate Side of the High Court 30 gold mohurs for the first appeal and 7½ gold mohurs for each analogous appeal subject to a maximum of sixty gold mohurs for the whole day.

5. Governor's power—The Governor may grant fees to the Advocate-General in any cases falling within the classes for which ordinarily he would receive no fees provided they are of exceptional difficulty or that the hearings have been or likely to be unduly prolonged.

6. Approval of Finance Department.—When the Legal Remembrancer proposes to engage the Advocate-General or the Standing Counsel at a fee higher than their prescribed rates or any counsel at a fee higher than twenty gold mohurs, he will obtain the previous approval of the Finance Department to the fee proposed. When, however, there is no time to make a reference to the Finance Department, the Legal Remembrancer may act on his own responsibility and refer to the Finance Department as soon as possible after the engagement is made.

7. His limitations.—The Advocate-General as conditions of his service is debarred from—

(i) Advising or holding briefs against the Province;

(ii) Defending accused persons in criminal prosecutions; unless specially authorized by the Governor.

[e. g., in a private prosecution in which Government is not interested.]

(iii) Advising private parties in cases in which he is likely to be called on to advise the Governor; and

(iv) Accepting appointment as a Director in any Company without the sanction of the Governor.

The officer himself must, however, be the judge as to whether he can, or cannot under rule (iii) advise on a question of law any private party who applies to him.

8. Control of expenditure.—The Legal Remembrancer is the controlling officer in respect of expenditure incurred by the Advocate-General.

Rule.

3A. The officer, his wife and any of his children shall, within the amounts under sub-rule (1) of rule 3 read with rule 4, be entitled to receive passages by air between a place in India and a place outside Asia, and the said accounts shall be debited with the cost of such passages actually engaged up to the limit in each case prescribed for passages by sea in clause (a) of sub-rule (1) of rule 3. Payment on account of passages by air shall be made by the Accountant-General, Bengal, to the air-ship companies either direct or through their recognised agents.

No. 3339F.—31st March 1937.—In exercise of the powers conferred by rule 44 of the Civil Services (Classification, Control and Appeal) Rules, the Governor in Council and acting with his Ministers hereby makes the following rules:—

Rules.

1. (1) These rules may be called the Bengal Services (Increases to Pensions) Rules, 1937.

(2) They shall be deemed to have come into force on the 1st March 1936 and shall, in the case of pensioners other than those in class C in rule 2, remain in force so long only as Government may decide.

2. These rules shall apply to the following classes of pensioners:—

(i) Class A.—Pensioners in receipt of a superior pension who retired before the introduction of revised rates of pay—

(a) in 1919-21, or
(b) during the post-war period

on account of the increased cost of living. Those who were on long leave on the date of the introduction of the revised rates of pay and retired on a pension calculated on the old rates shall, for the purposes of this clause, be deemed to have retired before the pay of the establishments in which they were employed was revised.

(ii) Class B.—Pensioners in receipt of a superior pension who retired after the introduction of the revised rates of pay—on account of the increased cost of living but did not receive the full pensionary benefit of the revision.

(a) in 1919-21, or
(b) during the post-war period

(iii) Class C.—Pensioners in receipt of an inferior pension who retired on or before the 31st March 1936.

(iv) Class D.—Pensioners in receipt of a pension granted under the rules in Part VI of the Civil Service Regulations.

3. (1) The pensions of those in class A in rule 2 shall be raised on the scale shown below:—

Scale.

Pensions not exceeding Rs. 10 a month by Rs. 2.
Pensions exceeding Rs. 10 but not exceeding Rs. 20 a month by Rs. 3.
Pensions exceeding Rs. 20 but not exceeding Rs. 30 a month by Rs. 4.
Pensions exceeding Rs. 30 but not exceeding Rs. 40 a month by Rs. 5.
Pensions exceeding Rs. 40 but below Rs. 45 a month by an amount which will bring the pension up to Rs. 45 a month.

(2) The pensions of those in class B in rule 2 shall be raised on the scale given in sub-rule (1) reduced by one-sixth for every completed six months of service qualifying for pension from the date of the introduction of the revised rates of pay—

(a) in 1919-21, or
(b) during the post-war period

on account of the increased cost of living as the case may be.

(3) The pensions of those in class C in rule 2, who retired before the introduction of the revised rates of pay—

(a) in 1918-21, or
(b) during the post-war period

on account of the increased cost of living, as well as of those who retired after the introduction of the revised rates of pay but on pension calculated on the old rates, shall be raised by Rs. 2 a month. In the case of those who retired after the introduction of the revised rates of pay—

(a) in 1918-21, or
(b) during the post-war period

on account of the increased cost of living, as the case may be, the maximum limit of pension in Article 481(b) of the Civil Service Regulations as it stood on the 14th January 1921 shall be enhanced by Rs. 2 a month.

(4) The pensions of those in class D in rule 2 shall be enhanced on the scale given in sub-rule (1):

Provided that in the case of pensions granted on the new scales laid down in revised Chapter XXXVIII of the Civil Service Regulations promulgated with the Government of India, Finance Department, Resolution No. 429-C.S.R., dated the 15th May 1922, pensioners shall have the option of drawing their pensions at the new rates or at the old rates plus the increase thereon permissible under sub-rule (1).

4. In cases where a portion of the pension has been commuted the increase shall be calculated on the original amount of the pension before commutation.

5. Re-employed pensioners drawing a pension not exceeding Rs. 10 a month shall be entitled to the increase on the scale laid down in rule 3. In the case of a pensioner who is in receipt of separate pensions from both the Civil and the Military Departments, the said limit of Rs. 10 shall have reference to the total of the combined civil and military pensions.

6. In the case of a pensioner who is in receipt of separate pensions from both the Civil and the Military Departments and is entitled to an increase under these rules, such increase shall be assessed on the total of the combined civil and military pensions, either on the scale laid down in rule 3 or on the military scale, whichever may be the more favourable to him.

7. No part of an increase of pension allowed under these rules shall be taken into account for purposes of commutation of pension.

MEMORANDUM ON THE BENGAL SERVICES (REVISION OF SPECIAL PAY) RULES, 1937.

No. 3238F.—27th March 1937.—In 1931 Government decided that all pays and special pays subject to their rule-making control should be examined with a view to their reduction and, as an ad interim measure, passed what are generally known as "the 15 per cent. cut orders." These laid down, with certain exceptions, that all new appointments made after the 21st July 1931 should be made on a provisional basis, and should carry pay (including special pay) at the current rates less 15 per cent. The term "new appointments" covered not merely appointments of new recruits to Government service, but also promotions to higher duties of persons already in Government service.

2. A permanent revision of pays proper, superseding the above ad interim orders, was promulgated—

(a) for permanent posts in the Bengal Services (Revision of Pay) Rules, 1934; and

(b) for temporary posts in the Bengal Services (Pay of Temporary Posts) Rules, 1935.

3. A permanent revision of special pays completing the supersession of those ad interim orders has now been completed, and will be found in the Bengal Services (Revision of Special Pay) Rules, 1937, published in the Finance Department notification No. 3262F., dated the 27th March 1937.

4. The principles adopted in this revision of special pays are much the same as those adopted in the case of the pays proper of permanent posts, for an account of which a reference is invited to Finance Department's "Memorandum on the Bengal Services (Revision of Pay) Rules, 1934, and matters connected therewith"—No. 1999F., dated the 28th March 1934. All special pays of corresponding amounts are subjected to a corresponding cut; the amount of the cut on smaller special pays is smaller than the amount on larger special pays, and a limit (Rs. 10) is adopted below which no special pay is reduced. A slightly different treatment is accorded to special pays on account of "unhealthiness of locality". Those which stood at Rs. 25 or below prior to the 15 per cent. cut orders are restored to that figure, while those which exceeded Rs. 25 are subjected to a flat cut of 15 per cent. as in the 15 per cent. cut orders but subject to a resultant minimum of Rs. 25.

5. There are a few cases in which no "revised rate" was called for, because the "unrevised rate" was in fact a rate already permanently fixed in conformity with the pattern of the general revision. These will be found in Schedule I of the rules.

6. As regards the application of the revised rates to Government servants already in service, the rules provide saving clauses, as did the rules revising pays proper, in favour of those who were in service on the 21st July 1931. A special provision deemed necessary in favour of those classes of Government servants who were exempted from the 15 per cent. cut orders is made in rule 7 (c). The Government servants in question are the Police establishment enrolled under the Police Act, and head warders and warders of all grades (including female warders) in the Jail Department.

7. For the purpose of interpreting the words "in the same line of service" wherever they occur in the rules, reference should be made to the orders which have been issued from time to time "grouping" posts in definition of the term "Outside the ordinary line of a person's service" in the Bengal Services (Revision of Pay) Rules, 1934.

8. For the avoidance of mistakes, it has been arranged with the Accountant-General, Bengal, that he will check in advance all calculations of the first special pay proposed to be drawn under the Bengal Services (Revision of Special Pay) Rules by persons already in service on the 28th February 1937. No such person may therefore draw special pay on the basis of these rules until he has been authorised to do so by the Accountant-General. Pending receipt of the Accountant-General's authorisation, special pay should be drawn at the rate applicable to the month of February 1937. When the Accountant-General's authorisation is received, supplementary bills may be presented for the difference, if any, between the pay actually drawn for service after the 28th February 1937 and the pay authorised for the same period by the Accountant-General. The Accountant-General will shortly issue detailed instructions in the matter.

9. It is requested that departments will inform the Finance Department of any posts carrying special pays prior to the 1st March 1937 which have not been included in either Schedule I or Schedule II of the Bengal Services (Revision of Special Pay) Rules, 1937. It is desired to make the rules exhaustive.

D. GLADDING,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 3262F.—27th March 1937.—In exercise of the powers conferred by rules 41 and 44 of the Civil Services (Classification, Control and Appeal) Rules, the Governor in Council and acting with his Ministers hereby makes the following rules in respect of persons subject to his rule-making control:—

Rules.

1. These rules may be called the Bengal Services (Revision of Special Pay) Rules, 1937.

2. With effect from the 1st March 1937, the Bengal Services (ad interim Revision of Pay) Rules, 1931 (hereinafter called "the 15 per cent. cut orders"), shall, save as provided in rule 3, cease to apply to special pays.

3. The 15 per cent. cut orders shall continue to apply as a permanent measure to special pays of more than Rs. 25 granted on account of unhealthiness of locality:

Provided that they shall not operate to reduce a special pay granted on account of unhealthiness of locality to a figure below Rs. 25.

4. Holders of the posts included in Schedule I will draw on and after the 1st March 1937, the rates of special pay shown against them.

5. With effect from the 1st March 1937, the posts included in Schedule II shall carry revised rates of special pay (granted for reasons other than unhealthiness of locality) as shown therein.

6. (a) The revised rates of special pay (hereinafter called "the revised rates") shown against the posts in Schedule II shall apply to all occupants of those posts appointed or reappointed thereto after the 21st July 1931, subject to the exceptions provided in rule 7.

(b) A person who was appointed or reappointed to a post in Schedule II on or before the 21st July 1931, and has, save for periods of leave or for periods of officiating or temporary service in another post on the same time-scale or in a higher post, held it continuously since then, shall be entitled to draw, so long as he holds that post, the special pay which would have been attached to it, had the 15 per cent. cut orders and these present rules never been issued; otherwise he shall draw the revised rates.

7. The following persons who otherwise would be liable under rule 6 to the revised rates, shall be excepted from their application to the extent indicated:—

(a) A person who was in Government service on the 21st July 1931 and held on that date a lien or a suspended lien on a permanent post, appointed or reappointed to a post included in Schedule II after the 21st July 1931, shall, if the post is in the same line of service with the permanent post which he held on the 21st July 1931, be entitled to draw, while holding the post, the special pay to which he would have been entitled had the 15 per cent. cut orders been continued in force, or the revised rate, whichever is greater.

(b) A person to whom sub-rule (a) does not apply, appointed or reappointed to a post included in Schedule II after the 21st July 1931 but before the 1st March 1937, shall, if the rate of special pay actually drawn by him on the 28th February 1937 was more than the revised rate, be allowed, while holding the post to draw, in addition to the revised rate, a personal pay equal to the difference, such personal pay being absorbed in future increments (if any) of pay proper in the manner specified in Fundamental Rule 37.

(c) (i) A person belonging to a class which, under rule 6 of the Bengal Services (ad interim Revision of Pay) Rules, 1931, has been exempted from the operation of the 15 per cent. cut orders, appointed or reappointed after the 21st July 1931 but prior to the 1st March 1937 to a post included in Schedule II, shall be entitled to draw, for so long as he holds the post and is not appointed to a new post, the amount of special pay which he actually drew in respect of the post on the 28th February 1937.

Note.—Reappointment after a period of leave or a period of officiating or temporary service in a post on the same time-scale or a still higher post, to the post which a person held on the 28th February 1937, shall not be considered as an appointment to a new post for the purposes of this clause.

(ii) Such a person appointed or reappointed on or after the 1st March 1937 to a post included in Schedule II, shall draw the revised rates:

Provided that if, on the 28th February 1937 he held a lien or a suspended lien on a permanent post, and the post included in Schedule II to which he is appointed or reappointed on or after the 1st March 1937 is in the same line of service with the post on which he held a lien or a suspended lien on the 28th February 1937, he shall be entitled to draw, while holding the post, the special pay which he would have drawn had the 15 per cent. cut orders been continued in force and had he been subject to them, or the revised rate, whichever is greater.

RULES.

1. (a) Title and application.—These rules may be called the Hazardous Occupations (Lead) Rules, 1937.

(b) They shall apply to all factories in which any operation specified in the Schedule is carried on.

2. Declaration of occupations as Hazardous.—The operations specified in the Schedule are declared to be hazardous operations when carried on in any factory.

3. (1) Definition of "lead compound".—In these rules "lead compound" means any compound of lead, other than galena, or any mixture which contains a compound of lead, other than galena (but does not include an alloy containing lead):

Provided that the compound or mixture when subjected to the treatment prescribed in sub-rule (3) yields to an aqueous solution of hydrochloric acid a quantity of soluble lead compound exceeding, when calculated as lead monoxide, five per cent. of the dry weight of the portion taken for analysis.

(2) In the case of paints and similar products and other mixtures containing oil or fat the "dry weight" means the dry weight of the material remaining after the substance has been thoroughly mixed and treated with suitable solvents to remove oil, fats, varnish or other media, and the treatment referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be applied to the material so remaining.

(3) The treatment referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be as follows:—

A weighed quantity of the material which has been dried at 100°C and thoroughly mixed shall be continuously shaken for one hour, at the common temperature, with 1,000 times its weight of an aqueous solution of hydrochloric acid containing 0·25 per cent. by weight of hydrogen chloride. This solution shall thereafter be allowed to stand for one hour and then filtered. The lead salt contained in the clear filtrate shall then be precipitated as lead sulphide and weighed as lead sulphate.

4. Sampling.—When an Inspector of Factories suspects that any substance used or intended for use in any factory contains a lead compound he may at any time take for analysis sufficient samples of that substance:

Provided that the manager of the factory may, at the time when a sample is taken and on providing the necessary appliances, require the Inspector to divide the sample into two parts and to make and seal and deliver to him one such part.

5. Prohibition of employment of women, adolescents and children.—No woman, adolescent or child shall be employed in any factory in any of the operations specified in items (i) to (vii) inclusive of the Schedule.

6. Medical certification and examination.—(1) No person shall be employed in any factory for more than 15 days in the year, in any of the operations specified in the Schedule unless a special certificate of fitness in the Form appended to these rules granted to him by a certifying surgeon appointed under section 12 of the Factories Act, 1934, is in the custody of the manager of the factory.

(2) The Chief Inspector of Factories may require that any person granted a certificate under sub-rule (1) shall carry with him while at work a token giving reference to such certificate.

(3) Every person so employed shall be medically examined by a certifying surgeon or by a registered medical practitioner specially appointed by the Local Government to be a certifying surgeon for the purpose of these rules, at intervals of not more than six months, and a record of such examinations shall be entered in the Form appended to these rules and be preserved by the manager of the factory.

(4) If at any time the certifying surgeon is of opinion that any person is no longer fit for employment in any of the operations specified in the Schedule, he shall cancel the special certificate of fitness of that person.

(5) No person whose special certificate of fitness has been cancelled shall be employed in any of the operations specified in the Schedule unless the certifying surgeon again certifies him to be fit.

7. Exhaust draughts.—Where gas, dust or fume is produced in any of the operations specified in the Schedule, provision shall be made for removing the gas, dust or fume by means of an efficient exhaust draught so contrived as to operate on the gas, dust or fume as closely as possible to the point of origin:

(b) the damping of floors, apparatus and material to prevent the raising of dust.

Explanation.—"Efficient exhaust draught" means localised ventilation effected by heat or mechanical means, for the removal of gas, vapour, dust or fumes so as to prevent them (as far as practicable under the atmospheric conditions usually prevailing) from escaping into the air of any place in which work is carried on. No draught shall be deemed efficient which fails to remove smoke generated at the point where such gas, vapour, fumes or dust originate.

8. Floors and work-benches.—(1) The floor of every room, in which any person is employed on any of the operations specified in items (i) to (vi) of the Schedule, shall be of smooth cement or other smooth impervious material.

(2) The top of every work-bench in every such room shall be of smooth impervious material.

(3) The said floors and work-benches shall be kept clean and in good condition.

(4) The Chief Inspector of Factories may require by order in writing the said floors and work-benches to be kept wet in such manner as he may deem suitable, in order to reduce dust.

9. Washing facilities.—The occupier shall provide and maintain in a cleanly state and in good repair for the use of persons employed on any of the operations specified in the Schedule either—

(i) a trough with a smooth impervious surface fitted with a waste pipe without plug, and of sufficient length to allow at least two feet for every five such persons employed at any one time, and having a constant supply of water from taps or jets above the trough at intervals of not more than two feet; or

(ii) at least one lavatory basin for every five such persons employed at any one time, fitted with a waste pipe and plug, having a constant supply of water;

12. Tools and apparatus.—All tools and apparatus used in any operation specified in the Schedule and all rooms in which such operations are carried on shall be kept clean.

13. The Chief Inspector of Factories may grant exemption from the operation of rule 8, 9, 10 (1) or 11 to the extent he deems suitable, where he is satisfied that their observance is not necessary for safeguarding the health of the operatives.

Chief Inspector of Explosives in India.

Plan No. , dated .

Description of the licensed premises referred to above.

The licensed premises are situated and consist of a gas-tight tank (tanks) of a capacity of gallons sunk underground.

Date of renewal.	Date of expiry.	Signature of licensing authority.

Conditions of licence.

1. The petroleum shall be stored in one or more gas-tight metal tanks of a capacity of gallons sunk completely underground in the position shown on the plan attached hereto and each placed in a masonry or concrete pit, the tank being packed round with sand, earth or clay so that no air-space is left between the tank and the masonry or concrete pit and the tank is not visible. Such masonry or concrete pit shall not be obligatory if the tank is a welded one tested up to a pressure of 3 lbs. per square inch and is buried and is on private, leased or rented land away from public traffic. The space over the buried tanks must not be used for any purpose.

*Not applicable to kerbside outfits.

2. There shall be no openings in any tank other than those necessary for the introduction or removal of the petroleum or for ventilating or dipping the tank. The filling and dipping pipes shall be carried down nearly to the bottom of the tank.

3. Every tank shall be fitted with a vent pipe leading into the open air. The vent pipe shall be securely supported and shall be not less than 12 feet in height. The upper opening shall be covered with fine copper or other non-corroding metal wire gauze of mesh not less than 28 to the linear inch and fitted with a hood or the upper opening shall be fitted with an inlet valve and an exhaust valve.

4. After the 1st April 1937, no pump or tank shall be erected inside a building and, if prior to that date any tank is installed inside a building, it shall only be filled from a tank-wagon through an underground filling pipe having a filling point in the open air at a distance of not less than 12 feet from the building.

5. No alteration of the position of a pump or tank and no replacement of a tank shall be effected except with the previous sanction in writing of the licensing authority. All alterations sanctioned under this condition shall be shown on an amended plan to be attached to this licence.

6. If the licensing authority calls upon the holder of a licence by a notice in writing to execute any repairs to the licensed premises which are, in the opinion of such authority, necessary for the safety of the premises, the holder of the licence shall execute the repairs within such period, not being less than one month from the date of receipt of the notice, as may be fixed by the notice.

7. Every tank, before being repaired, shall be cleared of all petroleum and of all inflammable vapours. When a tank in position is open for cleaning or repairs no electric or other lamps, electric cables or electric fans shall be brought near the manhole of the tank until the tank has been certified in writing to be 'gas free' by a qualified Chemist or Engineer. (The inside of the tank may be lighted by the use of mirrors.)

8. The petroleum shall enter a tank "under seal" and shall not be supplied to the tank between the hours of sunset and sunrise except by a motor tank-wagon of a type approved by the Chief Inspector for the purpose and with the approval in writing of the licensing authority.

NOTE.—A pipe supplying liquid to a tank is "under-seal" to that tank if it is screwed to the tank or otherwise attached so that no liquid or vapour can escape into the air except through the vent pipe fitted to the tank as required by condition 3.

9. No artificial light capable of igniting inflammable vapour shall at any time be present in the immediate vicinity of the tank-wagon during the transfer of the petroleum to the tank and no person engaged in such transfer shall smoke. When the underground tank is filled with petroleum from barrels no such light shall be allowed within a distance of 30 feet from the barrels.

10. No petroleum shall be removed from a tank except by means of the pump or pumps at the position marked on the plan hereto attached. Every pump shall together with its connections and fittings be so constructed and maintained as to be gas and petroleum-tight. The pipe connections between the tank and a pump shall be placed underground.

11. For the purpose of charging the tanks of motor vehicles the petroleum shall only be supplied by being—

(a) pumped through strong metal piping by means of approved pumps into above ground measuring tanks of a capacity not exceeding 30 gallons, fixed in approved positions, and run thence through sound hose, fitted with a secure self-closing cock and nozzle, into the tanks of motor vehicles, or

(b) pumped through strong metal piping by means of approved pumps into an above ground service tanks of approved capacity, fixed in an approved position, and run thence through strong metal piping into measuring tanks of a capacity not exceeding 30 gallons fixed in approved positions and thence through sound hose, fitted with a secure self-closing cock and nozzle, into the tanks of motor vehicles, or

(c) pumped by means of approved measuring pumps, fixed in approved positions, through sound hose fitted with a secure tap and nozzle, into the tanks of motor vehicles.

12. Petroleum may be supplied to a motor vehicle between the hours of sunset and sunrise from the pump provided that (i) lights other than the electric lights of the vehicle receiving the petroleum are extinguished, (ii) the pump and the vehicle are illuminated by electric light or failing this by some other form of lighting and (iii) no light capable of igniting inflammable vapour is situated or brought within twelve feet of the pump or vehicle receiving the petroleum.

13. Petroleum shall not be placed in any motor vehicle while the engine is running and persons in and engaged in connection with such motor vehicle shall not be permitted to smoke.

14. Except when absolutely necessary for the purposes of condition 7 or for testing the accuracy of the pump's discharge by means of a standard capacity measure, petroleum shall not be filled from the tank or pump into any receptacle other than one clamped or fitted to a motor vehicle.

15. This licence shall be held to cover the use of a portable kerb-side pump outfit for a period of not more than one month in the place of the licensed permanent outfit in the event of the latter being out of order, provided notice in writing is given to the licensing authority before the portable pump is taken into use, and the conditions of this licence which apply to a portable pump are observed. No petroleum shall be allowed above ground (except that actually in the pump) in any case where the underground tanks can be used in connection with the portable pump by making a temporary connection from the portable pump to the underground tank.

16. In cases where portable pumps are used not more than two barrels of petroleum in reserve shall be kept within 20 feet of the pump or on public property nearby.

17. Adequate precautions shall be taken to prevent unauthorised persons from having access to the petroleum or to the vessels which contain or have contained petroleum.

to cause fire or explosion and which is not reasonably necessary and, to the best of his ability, shall prevent any other person from doing such act.

19. Every care shall be taken to prevent any petroleum escaping into any drain or sewer.

20. The licensee shall provide for each pump, whether kerbside or portable, a minimum of two tins or drums of dry sand which shall be kept ready for extinguishing fires.

21. Any accident, fire or explosion occurring within the licensed premises, which is attended with loss of human life or serious injury to person or property shall be reported to the nearest Magistrate or to the Officer-in-charge of the nearest Police Station immediately and by telegraph or telephone where such means of communication are available.

22. Free access to the licensed premises shall be given at all reasonable times to any Inspector or Sampling Officer and every facility shall be afforded to such officer for ascertaining that the rules and the conditions of this licence are duly observed.

Plan No. , dated

Description of the place referred to above.

Date of renewal.	Date of expiry.	Signature of licensing authority.

This licence is liable to be cancelled if the licensed premises when inspected are not found conforming to the description and conditions attached hereto and contravention of any of the rules and conditions under which this licence is granted is also punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees for a first offence and which may extend to two thousand rupees for any subsequent offence.

Conditions of licence.

1. Petroleum shall be kept only in the storage tanks and storage and filling sheds or other approved places within the installation specified for the purpose on the plan attached hereto.

2. (i) The tank or tanks shall be supported on an approved foundation and shall be surrounded by a wall or embankment of substantial construction, or shall be partially sunk in an excavation. The enclosure thus formed shall contain only one of the following classes of petroleum, shall be of dimensions sufficient to contain the quantity of petroleum specified under the class to be stored and shall be so constructed and maintained as to prevent the escape therefrom of any petroleum in the form of liquid, whether under the action of fire or otherwise—

(a) Dangerous petroleum—10 per cent. more petroleum than the tank or tanks are capable of containing;

(b) Non-dangerous petroleum other than heavy petroleum—the amount of petroleum the tank or tanks are capable of containing;

(c) Heavy petroleum—the amount of petroleum the largest tank in the enclosure is capable of containing:

Provided that heavy petroleum may be stored in the same enclosure as non-dangerous petroleum other than heavy petroleum if the dimension under (b) above is observed.

(ii) Except for the necessary pipes and valves the space within an enclosure and not occupied by the tank or tanks, shall be kept entirely clear and unoccupied. Alternatively gas-tight metal tanks may be sunk completely underground the tanks being packed round with sand, earth or clay, so that no air-space is left below ground level and the tank is not visible. Tanks so buried shall not be required to maintain the safety distances laid down in condition 8 but the space over the buried tanks must not be used for any purpose. The filling and dipping pipes in an underground tank shall be carried down to the bottom of the tank.

3. All tanks shall be fitted with a vent pipe leading into the open air, the open end being covered with fine copper or other non-corroding metal wire gauze of mesh not less than 28 to the linear inch, and fitted with a hood or the tank shall be fitted with an approved relief valve or other approved means for preventing dangerous internal or external pressures being produced.

4. Cast iron valves are not permitted on any tank and all valves in an installation must be permanently marked in a manner clearly indicating the direction of opening and shutting the valve.

5. Pumps shall be placed only in the positions shown on the plan attached hereto and they shall together with all connections and fittings be so constructed and maintained as to prevent leakage of petroleum.

6. Storage or filling sheds shall be constructed of suitable uninflammable material. The building shall rest on foundation walls and shall be surrounded by a wall or embankment of substantial construction or the walls and floor shall be suitably finished to form a sump or enclosure not more than two feet deep. A combination of these methods is permissible. The enclosure or sump thus formed shall be of sufficient capacity to contain the total quantity of petroleum liable at any time to be present in the building and shall be so constructed and maintained as to prevent the escape therefrom of any petroleum in the form of liquid whether under the action of fire or otherwise. In the case of dangerous petroleum or partly dangerous and partly non-dangerous petroleum the enclosure or sump shall be capable of receiving and retaining a volume not less than 5 per cent. in excess of the maximum quantity allowed in the building. The sumps and enclosures must be kept clean and free from any accumulation of inflammable liquids.

7. Every storage or filling shed in which dangerous petroleum is stored or filled shall be adequately ventilated near the ground level immediately above any walls constructed to prevent any leakage of petroleum and also near or in the roof. The ventilators shall be provided with two thicknesses of fine copper or other non-corroding metal wire gauze of mesh not less than 28 to the linear inch.

8. (a) A distance of not less than 100 feet shall be kept clear between (i) a storage tank and any other storage tank (ii) between a storage tank and a storage or filling shed, the distance being measured between the nearest points of the perimeters of the storage tanks or storage or filling sheds, as the case may be.

(b) A distance of not less than 150 feet shall be kept clear between any storage tank or storage or filling shed and any protected work.

(c) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (a) or clause (b)—

(i) Where the quantity of dangerous petroleum or partly dangerous and partly non-dangerous petroleum not in bulk to be stored in a storage shed does not exceed 50,000 gallons, the following reduced distances may be kept clear between the shed or enclosure wall and (A) any other building forming part of the installation, (B) any protected work or (C) any storage tank containing non-dangerous petroleum having a capacity not exceeding 50,000 gallons:—

	Feet.
Not exceeding 1,000 gallons	20
Exceeding 1,000 gallons but not exceeding 10,000 gallons ...	30
Exceeding 10,000 gallons but not exceeding 20,000 gallons ...	40
Exceeding 20,000 gallons but not exceeding 30,000 gallons ...	50
Exceeding 30,000 gallons but not exceeding 40,000 gallons ...	60
Exceeding 40,000 gallons but not exceeding 50,000 gallons ...	70

(ii) When a storage tank containing non-dangerous petroleum has a capacity not exceeding 1,00,000 gallons, a distance of not less than 50 feet may be kept clear between it and (A) another such tank of similar or less capacity or (B) a storage or filling shed containing non-dangerous petroleum.

Such a storage tank and storage or filling shed may, where the total quantity stored does not exceed 2,00,000 gallons, keep a distance of not less than 50 feet clear between the enclosure wall or embankment and any protected works.

(iii) When a storage tank containing non-dangerous petroleum has a capacity not exceeding 50,000 gallons, a distance of—

(a) for horizontal tanks, not less than one-third

(b) for perpendicular tanks, not less than one-half the height of the tank may be kept clear between it and (A) another such tank or (B) a storage or filling shed wherein non-dangerous petroleum is stored in quantity not exceeding 50,000 gallons.

Such a storage tank and storage or filling shed may, where the total quantity stored does not exceed 1,00,000 gallons, keep a distance of not less than 20 feet clear between the enclosure wall or embankment and any protected works.

(iv) In the case of heavy petroleum a distance of not less than 20 feet may be kept clear between a storage tank and (A) another such tank or (B) a storage or filling shed containing such petroleum and a distance of not less than 50 feet shall be kept clear between such storage tank or filling or storage shed and any protected works. When the total quantity stored in such storage tank and storage or filling shed does not exceed 1,00,000 gallons, half the distances given in clause (iii) for the like quantity of non-dangerous petroleum other than heavy petroleum may be observed.

9. The distances specified in condition 8 may be reduced by the licensing authority in cases where screen walls are provided or other special precautions taken or where there are special circumstances that, in his opinion, warrant the alteration.

10. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary when petroleum is stored in an installation at or near wells, pumping stations or refineries, the concessions in clause (c) of condition 8 shall not apply and no storage tank, the capacity of which exceeds 50,000 gallons, or storage or filling shed shall be placed nearer than 300 feet to any still, boiler, furnace or fire. In such an installation all tanks shall be situated in a compact area (a) under a single control (b) enclosed or capable of being enclosed by one continuous fence (c) on which there shall be no protected works.

11. No alterations shall be carried out in the installation without the previous sanction in writing of the licensing authority. Such alterations so sanctioned shall be shown on an amended plan to be attached to this licence.

12. If the licensing authority calls upon the holder of a licence, by a notice in writing, to execute any repairs to the licensed premises, which are, in the opinion of such authority, necessary for the safety of the premises, the holder of the licence shall execute the repairs within such period, not being less than one month from the date of receipt of the notice, as may be fixed by the notice.

13. The responsible agent or supervisor referred to in rule 92 shall not allow any person to enter a tank, which has contained petroleum, unless—

(a) such person wears a safety helmet of a description approved by the Chief Inspector, or

(b) (i) the responsible agent or supervisor has certified in writing, as the result of an examination of the tank by himself or by some other competent person, that the atmosphere in the tank is fit for persons to enter, and

(ii) at least one safety helmet of a pattern approved by the Chief Inspector shall have been kept ready for instant use at the manhole of the tank which is being cleaned or repaired.

14. No work, involving the use of fire, welding or hot rivetting, shall be performed in or on any tank until the tank has been certified in the manner laid down in clause (b) of condition 13 to be free from petroleum vapour. When any water is pumped into or withdrawn from the tank no further work of the above description shall be done until the tank has been re-tested and a fresh certificate issued. When a tank is open for cleaning or repairs no lamps of any description either ordinary or electric, electric torches, electric cables or fans other than of a flame-proof type satisfying the requirements of the British Standard Specification No. 229 shall be brought near the tank.

15. No person shall repair or cause to be repaired any receptacle or pipe in which, to his knowledge, any petroleum is or has been kept until he has taken all reasonable precautions to ensure that the receptacle or pipe has been rendered free from petroleum and any inflammable vapour:

Provided that this condition shall not be deemed to prohibit the usual soldering operations connected with the filling and despatching of petroleum receptacles.

16. All empty receptacles which have contained dangerous petroleum shall, except when they are opened for the purpose of cleaning them and rendering them free from petroleum vapour, be kept securely closed unless they have been thoroughly cleaned and freed from petroleum and inflammable vapour.

17. Adequate precautions shall be taken at all times for the prevention of accident by fire or explosion.

18. Every care shall be taken to prevent any petroleum escaping into any drain, sewer, harbour, river or water course and enclosures or sumps must not be permanently connected with any drain or sewer.

19. Any accident, fire or explosion occurring within the area specified in the licence, which is attended with loss of human life or serious injury to person or property shall be reported to the nearest Magistrate or to the Officer-in-charge of the nearest Police Station immediately and by telegraph or telephone where such means of communication are available.

20. Free access to the licensed premises shall be given at all reasonable times to any Inspector or Sampling Officer and every facility shall be afforded to such officer for ascertaining that the rules and the conditions of this licence are duly observed.

Description of the storage shed referred to above.

Date of renewal.	Date of expiry.	Signature of licensing authority.

This licence is liable to be cancelled if the licensed premises when inspected are not found conforming to the description and conditions attached hereto and contravention of any of the rules and conditions under which this licence is granted is also punishable with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees for a first offence and which may extend to two thousand rupees for any subsequent offence.

Conditions of licence.

1. The petroleum shall be stored only in the storage shed which shall be constructed of suitable uninflammable material provided that, when only non-dangerous petroleum is stored, the beams, rafters, columns, windows and doors may be of wood. The building shall rest on foundation walls and shall be surrounded by a wall or embankment of substantial construction or the walls and floor shall be suitably finished to form a sump or enclosure not more than two feet deep. A combination of these methods is permissible. The enclosure or sump thus formed shall be of sufficient capacity to contain the total quantity of petroleum liable at any time to be present in the building and shall be so constructed and maintained as to prevent the escape therefrom of any petroleum in the form of liquid whether under the action of fire or otherwise. In the case of dangerous petroleum or partly dangerous and partly non-dangerous petroleum the enclosure or sump shall be capable of receiving and retaining a volume not less than 5 per cent. in excess of the maximum quantity allowed in the building. The sumps and enclosures must be kept clean and free from any accumulation of inflammable liquids.

2. The storage shed, if it is used for the storage of dangerous petroleum, shall be adequately ventilated near the ground level immediately above any walls constructed to prevent any leakage of petroleum and also near or in the roof. The ventilators shall be provided with two thicknesses of fine copper or other non-corroding metal wire gauze of mesh not less than 28 to the linear inch.

3. If the licensing authority calls upon the holder of a licence, by a notice in writing, to execute any repairs to the licensed premises which may, in the opinion of such authority, be necessary for the safety of the premises, the holder of the licence shall execute the repairs within such period, not being less than one month from the date of receipt of the notice, as may be fixed by the notice.

4. No alteration shall be carried out in the licensed premises without the previous sanction in writing of the licensing authority. All alterations shall be shown on an amended plan to be attached to this licence.

5. The following distances shall be kept clear at all times between protected works and a storage shed or an enclosure wall used for the storage of dangerous petroleum or partly dangerous and partly non-dangerous petroleum:—

6. The following distances shall be kept clear at all times between protected works and a storage shed or an enclosure wall used for the storage of non-dangerous petroleum only:—

Quantity to be stored	Distances to be kept clear.
	Feet.
exceeding 5,000 gallons but not exceeding 10,000 gallons	15
exceeding 10,000 gallons but not exceeding 50,000 gallons	20
exceeding 50,000 gallons	30

7. The distances specified in conditions 5 and 6 may be reduced by the licensing authority in cases where screen walls are provided or other special precautions taken or where there are special circumstances that, in his opinion, warrant the reduction.

8. Drums or other receptacles containing petroleum shall only be opened in the licensed premises and for the time necessary for drawing off the petroleum, and during such drawing off every reasonable precaution shall be adopted for preventing the escape of petroleum or the vapour therefrom.

9. All empty receptacles which have contained dangerous petroleum shall, except when they are opened for the purpose of cleaning them and rendering them free from petroleum vapour, be kept securely closed unless they have been thoroughly cleaned and freed from petroleum and inflammable vapour.

10. No person shall repair or cause to be repaired any receptacle in which, to his knowledge, any petroleum is or has been kept until he has taken all reasonable precautions to ensure that the receptacle has been rendered free from petroleum and any inflammable vapour:

Provided that this condition shall not be deemed to prohibit the usual soldering operations connected with the filling and despatching of petroleum receptacles when such operations are conducted in an approved place outside the storage shed.

11. Adequate precautions shall be taken at all times for the prevention of accident by fire or explosion.

12. Every care shall be taken to prevent any petroleum escaping into any drain, sewer, harbour, river or water course.

SCHEDULE III.

METHODS OF TESTING PETROLEUM.

Determination of Flashing-Point.

[See Rules 157 and 160.]

I. APPARATUS TO BE USED.

The flashing-point of petroleum and petroleum mixtures which are fluid at 50°F. and which flash not above 120°F. shall be determined by the Abel apparatus as hereinafter defined.

The flashing-point of petroleum and petroleum mixtures which are solid at 50°F. and which flash not above 120°F. shall be determined by the Abel apparatus, the test being modified as hereinafter described.

The flashing-point of petroleum and petroleum mixtures which flash above 120°F. shall be determined by the Pensky-Martens apparatus as hereinafter defined.

II. PREPARING THE SAMPLES FOR TEST.

About ten fluid ounces of the sample, sufficient for three tests, should be transferred from the bottle into which the sample has been drawn to a pint, flask or bottle, which should be immersed in water artificially cooled until a thermometer, introduced into the sample, indicates a temperature not exceeding 50°F.

III. (1) ABEL APPARATUS.

The apparatus to be employed shall be the Abel petroleum testing apparatus modified by having an oil cup provided with a stirrer. It shall be constructed to the dimensions herein specified within the limits of accuracy prescribed by the tolerances set forth below.

Oil Cup.—The oil cup consists of a cylindrical vessel open at the top and fitted on the outside with a flat circular flange projecting at right angles.

Within the cup, fixed through the wall and silver soldered or brazed in place, there is a gauge consisting of a piece of wire bent upwards and terminating in a point.

Material.—Brass or gun-metal.

moves, and a white bead. The top of the cover is pierced by three rectangular holes symmetrically placed on a diameter, one in the centre and the other two as close as practicable to the inner sides of the cover-rim and opposite each other. These three holes are covered or uncovered by means of a slide moving in suitably disposed guides. The slide has two perforations, one corresponding in all particulars to the centre hole in the cover and the other to one of the holes at the side. The movement of the slide is restricted by suitable stops, and its length and the disposition of the holes are such, that at the outer extremity of the movement of the slide, the holes in the cover are simultaneously just completely opened and at the inner extremity of the movement of the slide they are completely closed.

The trunnions supporting the test lamp are fixed on the top of the guides and the lamp is mounted in the trunnions so that it is free to oscillate. The lamp is provided with a jet to contain a wick and is so arranged that when the slide is moved so as to uncover the holes, the oscillating lamp is caught by a pin fixed in the slide and tilted over the central hole in such a way that the lower edge of the cover bisects the circle formed by the bore of the jet when in the lowest position. The flame then occupies a central position within the hole in both directions.

A suitably mounted gas-jet may be substituted for the lamp

The thermometer socket is in the form of a split tube, mounted on a diameter at right angles to the diameter through the centre of the holes, and fitted at such an angle as to bring the bulb of the thermometer, when in place, vertically below the centre of the cover and at the correct distance from it

A white bead, the dimensions of which represent the size of test flame to be used, is mounted in a visible position on the cover

Materials.—All parts excepting bead, brass or gun-metal Bead, ivory or other suitable material.

Cover fitted with stirrer.—Provision may be made in the cover for the reception of a stirrer which projects into the oil cup, for use with viscous materials only.

A bush is mounted on the cover in a position diametrically opposite the thermometer mounting, and its length is such and it is set at such an angle that the stirrer rod clears the oil-level gauge and the blades operate below the level of, and without fouling, the thermometer bulb. The bush is placed as near as practicable to the outer edge of the cover.

The stirrer consists of a round stem having four blades or vanes silver soldered in place at one end. A collar is fixed on the stem so that when the stem is inserted into the bush from below, it is arrested at a position such that the correct length protrudes into the oil cup.

The top end of the stem is reduced and screwed.

A long sleeve having an internally screwed, knurled knob soldered to its upper end, is passed over the upper end of the stem and screwed home. The length of the sleeve is such that a flat-faced collar at its lower end just comes into contact with the upper end of the bush, leaving the stirrer free to rotate without appreciable vertical play.

A flat-headed cylindrical plug is provided for insertion in the bush when the stirrer is not in use.

Material.—Brass or gun-metal.

Heating vessel.—The heating vessel or bath consists of two flat-bottomed cylindrical copper vessels placed coaxially one inside the other and soldered at their tops to a flat copper ring, greater in outside diameter than the larger vessel and of smaller inside diameter than the smaller vessel. The space between the two vessels is thus totally enclosed and is used as a water jacket.

An ebonite or fibre ring of right-angle section is fitted into the hole in the centre of the flat ring forming the top of the bath and, when the apparatus is in use, the oil cup fits into, and its flange rests upon, this ebonite or fibre ring so that the oil cup is centrally disposed within the heating vessel. The ebonite or fibre ring is secured in place by means of six small screws having their heads sunk below the surface of the ring, to avoid metallic contact between the bath and the oil cup.

A split socket, similar to that on the cover of the oil cup, but set vertically, allows a thermometer to be inserted into the water-space. A funnel and overflow pipe also communicate with the water-space through the top plate and two loop handles are provided thereon.

The bath rests upon a cast-iron tripod stand, to the ring of which is attached a cylindrical copper jacket not less than 24 I.W.G. flanged inwards at the top, and of such dimensions that the bath, while resting firmly on the iron ring, just touches with its outward projecting flange the inward-turned flange of the jacket. Two handles are provided on the outer jacket.

Diameter of the outer jacket 6·5 inches ± 0·1 inch.

Spirit lamp.—A spirit lamp is provided for raising the temperature of the water bath, but any other suitable means may be employed for this purpose.

Thermometers.—Two thermometers are provided, the one for ascertaining the temperature of the bath, the other for determining the flashing-point.

III. (II) METHOD.

(1) FOR PETROLEUM FLASHING BELOW 90° F.

The test apparatus shall be placed for use in a position where it is not exposed to currents of air or draughts.

The heating vessel or water-bath shall be filled by pouring water into the funnel until it begins to flow out at the spout of the vessel. The temperature of the water at the beginning of the test shall be 130° F., and no heat shall be applied to the water-bath during the test. When a test has been completed and it is desired to make another test the water-bath shall be again raised to 130°F., which may conveniently be done while the petroleum cup is being emptied, cooled and refilled with a fresh sample to be tested. The next test is then proceeded with.

If an oil test-lamp is being used it shall be prepared by fitting it with a piece of flat plaited candle-wick and filling it with colza or rape oil up to the lower edge of the opening of the spout or wick tube. The lamp shall be trimmed so that when lighted it gives a flame of about 0·15 of an inch diameter, and this size of flame, which is represented by the projecting white bead on the cover of the oil-cup is readily maintained by simple manipulation from time to time with a small wire trimmer. A gas test-flame may be employed, and if so, the size of the jet of flame shall be adjusted to the size laid down above.

The bath having been raised to the proper temperature, the cup shall be placed on a level surface in a good light, and the oil to be tested shall be poured into it, until the level of the liquid just reaches the point of the gauge which is fixed in the cup. Before a test is begun the temperature of the oil shall be determined and shall be brought to approximately 60°F. The cover, with the slide closed, shall then be put on to the cup and pressed down so that its edge rests on the rim of the cup, and the cup shall be so placed into the bath or heating vessel, every care being taken to avoid wetting the sides of the cup with the oil. The thermometer in the lid of the cup has been adjusted so as to have the correct immersion when the brass collar of the thermometer is properly seated, and its position shall not in any circumstances be altered. When the cup has been placed in the proper position, the scale of the thermometer faces the operator.

The test-lamp shall then be placed in position upon the lid of the cup. When the temperature has reached 66°F. the operation of testing shall be begun, the test-flame being applied once for every rise of one degree, in the following manner:—

The slide shall be slowly drawn open while a metronome, set at 75 to 80 beats per minute, beats three times and shall be closed during the fourth beat. A pendulum of 24 inches effective length may be used in place of the metronome, counting one beat from one extremity of the swing to the other.

The barometric pressure shall be observed and recorded. No corrections shall be made except in case of dispute, when the flashing-point figure shall be corrected according to the following rule:—

For each inch (25·4 mm.) below 29·92 in. (760 mm.) barometric reading add 1·6°F. to the flashing-point.

For each inch (25·4 mm.) above 29·92 in. (760 mm.) barometric reading subtract 1·6°F. from the flashing-point.

(2) FOR PETROLEUM FLASHING BETWEEN 90° F. AND 120° F.

The air-chamber which surrounds the oil-cup shall be filled with cold water at a depth of 1·5 inch, and the heating vessel or water-bath filled as usual, but also with cold water. The lamp shall then be placed under the apparatus and kept there during the entire operation, and the temperature of the oil raised at the rate of 2°F. to 2·25°F. per minute, the testing being carried out as laid down in the previous section, except that the test flame shall first be applied when the temperature has reached 80°F.

(3) FOR SOLID PETROLEUM MIXTURES.

Solid petroleum mixtures are to be tested in the Abel apparatus in the following manner:—

The solid mixture must be cut into cylinders 1·5 inch long and 0·25 inch in diameter by means of a cork borer or other similar cutter having the correct internal diameter. These cylinders are to be placed in the petroleum cup of the testing apparatus in a vertical position in such number as will completely fill the cup. The cylinders must be in contact with one another, but must not be so tightly packed as to be deformed in shape.

Five or six of the cylinders in the centre of the cup must be shortened to 0·5 inch to allow space for the thermometer bulb.

The air bath of the testing apparatus must be filled to a depth of 1·5 inch with water. The water bath must then be raised to, and maintained at, a temperature of about 80°F.

The cup must then be placed in the air bath, and the temperature of the sample must be allowed to rise until the thermometer in the oil-cup shows 75°F., when the test flame must be applied.

If no flash is obtained, this temperature must be maintained constant in the oil-cup for one hour, at the expiration of which time the test flame must again be applied.

If a flash is obtained, the solid mixture will be subject to the provisions of the Petroleum Act, 1934.

NOTE—It may, in many cases, save time in testing samples of petroleum mixtures to apply the test flame after the sample has been a few minutes in the cup and while still at the temperature of the room in which the test is being carried out, provided that this temperature is below 76°F. If a flash is obtained by this means, it is unnecessary (for the purpose of Petroleum Act) to proceed with the test at a higher temperature.

IV. (I) THE PENSKY-MARTENS APPARATUS.

The standard Pensky-Martens Closed Tester shall be used for determining the flashing-point of all petroleum products having a flashing-point above 120°F.

Every instrument shall be marked with the letters I.P.T., an identification number (on the cup, cover and top plate) and the name of the maker or vendor, such stamping implying a guarantee that the instrument complies with the requirements specified below.

The Pensky-Martens Tester shall include the following major parts:—

Cup.—The cup of the standard Pensky-Martens Tester shall be made of brass and shall satisfy the following dimensional specifications:—

THE PENSKY-MARTENS CLOSED TESTER.

Dimensions.	Inches. Normal.	Tolerances.
Inside diameter below filling mark ..	2·000	±0·050
Difference, inside and outside diameters below filling mark	0·125	±0·010

Thickness of bottom	0·095	±0·025
Distance from rim to filling mark ..	0·860	±0·015
Distance lower surface flange to bottom of cup	1·795	±0·015

The inside of the cup may be turned to a slightly larger diameter above the filling mark and the ouside may be tapered above the flange but the wall thickness at the upper edge shall be not less than 0·04 in. The flange should be approximately 0·5 in. wide and approximately 0·125 in. thick. It shall be equipped with devices for locating the position of the lid on the cup and the cup centrally in the stove. A handle, attached permanently to the flange of the cup, is a desirable accessory.

NOTE.—If the bottom of the cup is affixed it shall be brazed or hard soldered.

Stirring device.—The lid shall be equipped with a stirring device consisting of a vertical steel shaft, not less than 0·1 in. nor more than 0·125 in. in diameter, mounted in the centre of the cup, carrying two two-bladed brass propellers, and provided with any convenient means for operating. The blades of both propellers shall be approximately 0·3 in. wide and shall be set at an angle of approximately 45°. The smaller (upper) propeller shall have an over-all diameter of approximately 0·75 in. The larger (lower) propeller shall have an over-all diameter between 1·25 and 1·75 in. The thickness of the propeller blades shall be not less than 0·048 in. nor more than 0·08 in., which limits correspond respectively to No. 18 and No. 14 S.W.G. The propeller blades shall be brazed or hard soldered to collars on the vertical shaft and the collars shall have horizontal and vertical dimensions not greater than 0·4 in.

The plane of the centre of the upper propeller shall be 0·4 in. below the level of the rim of the cup. The plane of the centre of the lower propeller shall be 2·0 in. below the level of the rim of the cup. The level of the rim of the cup is in effect the level of the plane part of the portion of the lower surface of the lid inside the rim.

Cover proper.—The cover proper shall be of brass and shall have a rim projecting downward almost to the flange of the cup and fitting the outside of the cup closely. The thickness of the cover, measured just inside the rim, shall be not less than 0·03 in. nor more than 0·08 in. There shall be a proper locating device engaging with a corresponding locating device on the flange of the cup.

There shall be four openings in the cover.

Opening A is an area defined by arcs of two concentric circles and the intersected lengths of two radii. The radius of the outer circle shall be not less than 0·94 in. nor more than 0·97 in. The chord of the arc of the outer circle shall be not less than 0·5 in. nor more than 0·54 in.

Openings B and C are equal areas, each of the same general form as opening A but of approximately half the (angular) width. The radii of the defining inner and outer circles shall be within the limits specified for the radii of the two circles, arcs of which partially define opening A. The chord of the outer arc for opening B or opening C shall be not less than 0·19 in. nor more than 0·22 in. The sum of the areas of openings B and C shall be not less than 75 per cent. nor more than 100 per cent. of the area of opening A.

COVER OF PENSKY-MARTENS TESTER.

Openings B and C shall be equally distant from opening A, and radii drawn through each of their centres shall be at an angle of not less than 135° nor more than 140°.

Openings A, B, and C need not conform exactly to the shape of geometrical figures bounded by arcs of two concentric circles and intersected length of radii. Their boundaries must, however, fall on or between the lines indicated by the limiting values of the dimensional specification of the preceding text.

Opening D is a split tube to grip the thermometer collar. It shall be set at an angle of not less than 10° nor more than 15° from the perpendicular. Its centre is approximately 0·75 in. from the centre of the lid and on a radius at an angle of not less than 50° nor more than 60° from the radius passing through the opening C. Its height shall be such that, when a standard thermometer is in position, the bottom of the bulb shall be 1·5 in. ± 0·1 in., below the level of the rim of the cup (which corresponds to the lower surface of the portion of the lid inside the rim).

Shutter.—The lid shall be equipped with a brass shutter, approximately 0·1 in. thick, operating on the plane of the upper surface of the lid. The shutter shall be so shaped and mounted that it rotates on the surface of the lid about an axis normal to the lid, and through its centre, between two stops so placed that when in one extreme position the openings A, B, and C of the lid are completely closed and when in the other extreme position these openings are completely opened.

Flame exposure device.—The tip of the flame jet shall have an orifice 0·027 in. to 0·03 in. diameter. The flame-exposure device shall be equipped with an operating mechanism which, when the shutter is in the "open" position, depresses the tip so that the centre of the orifice is between the plane of the under and upper surfaces of the lid proper, at a point on a radius passing through the centre of the larger opening A and approximately 0·1 in. from the outer edge of the opening.

The test flame shall be approximately spherical and shall be regulated to be of the same mean diameter as a bead 0·16 in. in diameter of some suitable material mounted on the lid.

The mechanism operating the shutter should be of the spring type and constructed so that when at rest the shutter shall completely close the three openings. When operated to the other extreme the three openings in the lid shall be fully open and the tip of the exposure tube shall be fully depressed.

NOTE.—A pilot flame for automatic relighting of the test flame should be provided.

Where gas is not available, an oil burner shall be used as the test flame, the position of which shall correspond with that of the gas flame previously specified.

Stove.—Heat shall be supplied to the cup by means of a properly designed stove which is equivalent to an air bath. This stove shall consist of (1) an air bath and (2) a top plate on which the flange of the cup rests.

Air bath.—The air bath shall have a cylindrical interior 1·625 in. to 1·66 in. deep and a diameter not less than 0·125 in. nor more than 0·156 in. greater than the outside diameter of the cup, with the minimum clearance of 0·05 in. The air bath shall be a flame-heated metal casting.

NOTE.—The casting shall be so designed and used that the temperature of bottom and walls is approximately the same. On this account it should be not less than 0·25 in. thick. The apparatus shall be designed so that products of combustion of the flame cannot come into contact with any part of the cup.

Top plate.—The top plate shall be of metal. The total distance from the upper surface of the plate to the bottom of the air bath shall exceed the distance from the under surface of the flange to the bottom of the cup by not less than 0·063 in. nor more than 0·125 in.

The top plate shall be mounted with an air gap between it and the air bath. The top plate may be attached to the air bath by means of three screws and spacing bushings. The spacing bushings should be of proper thickness to define the air gap which shall be not less than 0·125 in. nor more than 0·187 in. The spacing bushings shall be not more than 0·375 in. in diameter.

Thermometers.—A low range thermometer shall be used with the Standard Pensky-Martens tester for determining the flashing-point above 120°F. The thermometer shall comply with the specification given below.

The thermometers shall conform to the following general specification:—

Type.—Mercury in glass, except where otherwise stated. Engraved stem. Nitrogen filled.

Stem.—The stem shall be made of lead glass or other suitable glass. Enamel back.

Bulb.—The bulb shall be made of a suitable thermometric glass approved by the National Physical Laboratory. At present these glasses are:—

—	Identification mark.	Approved for temperatures up to—
Normal glass made by James Powell and Sons, Ltd.	Single blue stripe ..	350°C.*
Normal glass made by Frank Tomey and Co., Ltd.	Two blue stripes ..	350°C.*
Normal glass, Jena^{111} made by Schott and Genossen.	Purple stripe ..	350°C.*
Normal glass, Gege Eff, made by Glaswerk Guxtav Fischer.	Blue and a red stripe ..	350°C.
Corning Borosilicate made by Corning Glass Co.	....	450°C.
Jena 59^{111} made by Schott and Genossen ..	....	450°C.
Jena 2954^{111} made by Schott and Genossen	Single black stripe ..	450°C.

Expansion and contraction chambers.—No contraction chamber shall be above the immersion line and no enlargement of the bore shall be within 10 mm. of the immersion line or of any part of the scale.

Graduation and figuring.—The graduation lines shall be clearly etched, and of uniform thickness not exceeding 0·15 mm. The lines shall all be at right angles to the axis of the thermometer. When the thermometer is viewed from the front and in a vertical position the lines shall all finish on a line parallel to the axis on the left hand side. Certain of the graduation lines shall be extended on the right hand side but the shortest graduations shall not extend across the bore. When the diameter of the tube permits the figures shall be upright when the thermometer is viewed from the front and in a vertical position, and should preferably be placed so that they would be intersected by the line to which they refer if it were extended.

*May be used up to 400°C. if a careful examination of the zero is made periodically.

Marking.—In addition to the special markings given in the table, each thermometer shall be marked with an identification number, and the maker's or vendor's name or trade mark.—

Name and special marking.	"I. P. T. P. M.—Low."
Dimensions— Stem, diameter	6·7 mm.*
Bulb, shape	Round.
Bulb, length	....
Bulb, diameter	8 mm. max.
Overall length, ± 5 mm.	275 mm.
Length of graduated portion	150-180 mm.
Distance, bottom of bulb to 20° mark	70-85 mm.
Range	20°F. to 230°F.
Graduation	1°F.
Longer lines at each	5°F. and 10°F.
Figured at each	10°F.
Expansion chamber	Required.
Immersion	2·2 in.
Top finish	Glass ring.

Each thermometer shall be mounted securely in a thermometer collar so that from the under-side of this collar to the bottom of the bulb the distance is 2·1 in. (± 0·05 in.). The thermometer collar shall have an outside diameter of 0·5 in., ± 0·002 in., and a flange 0·1 in., ± 0·01 in., in thickness. The cement used to fasten the thermometer into the collar shall be of such a nature that it will withstand the action of oil up to the highest temperature at which the thermometer is used.

Drying of the sample.

If gas oil or fuel oil is being tested, the sample shall be dried by the following method:—

One hundred grams of well-dried granular calcium chloride is placed in a dry wide-mouth stoppered glass bottle.

Two hundred and fifty millilitres† of the oil is then poured upon the calcium chloride. The stopper is secured in position by tying. The bottle is then well-shaken and is stood in a vessel of water, the level of the water being up to about one-third of the height of the oil

*A swelling to be provided to ensure the location of the thermometer collar at the correct point.

† If a smaller quantity of oil is to be dried the amount of calcium chloride must be adjusted in proportion.

in the bottle. The water is next raised to a temperature of 50°C. (120°F.), and is maintained at this temperature for a period of seven hours, the bottle and its contents being well-shaken up at intervals of about an hour. At the end of this treatment the bottle and its contents are allowed to cool to atmospheric temperature; the bottle is then opened and sufficient of the oil for test filtered through paper on a Buchner funnel.

IV. (II) METHOD.

All parts of the cup and its accessories shall be thoroughly clean and dry before starting the test. Particular care should be taken to avoid the presence of any gasoline or naptha used to clean the apparatus after a previous test.

The cup shall be filled with the oil to be tested up to the level indicated by the filling mark.

The lid shall be placed on the cup and the latter set in the stove. Care should be taken to have the locating devices properly engaged. The thermometer shall be inserted.

The test flame shall be lighted and adjusted so that it is of the size of a bead 0·16 in. in diameter.

Heat shall be supplied at such a rate that the temperature read on the thermometer increases not less than 9 or more than 11 degrees per minute. The stirrer shall be turned at a rate of approximately 60 revolutions per minute.

Application of the test flame shall be made at each temperature reading which is a multiple of 2°F. up to 220°F. For the temperature range above 220°F., application shall be made at each temperature reading which is a multiple of 5°F. The first application of the test flame shall be made at a temperature at least 50°F. below the actual flashing-point. Application of the test-flame shall be made by operating the device controlling the shutter and test-flame burner so that the flame is lowered in one-half second, left in its lowered position for one second, and quickly raised to its high position. Stirring shall be discontinued during the application of the test-flame.

The flashing-point is taken as the temperature read on the thermometer at the time of the flame application that causes a distinct flash in the interior of the cup. The true flash must not be confused with the bluish halo that sometimes surrounds the test flame for the applications preceding the one that causes the actual flash.

The barometric pressure shall be observed and recorded. No corrections shall be made except in case of dispute, when the flashing-point figure shall be corrected according to the following rule:—

For each inch (25·4 mm.) below 29·22 in. (760 mm.) barometric reading add 1·6°F. to the flashing-point.

For each inch (25·4 mm.) below 29·22 in. (760 mm.) barometric reading subtract 1·6°F. from the flashing-point.

V. THE FLASHING-POINT.

If a flash takes place at any temperature below 76°F. the temperature at which it occurs is noted. Two fresh portions of the sample are then to be successively tested in a similar manner and the results recorded. If no greater difference than two degrees Fahrenheit exists between any two of the three recorded results and if in no instance the flash has taken place within eight degrees Fahrenheit of the temperature at which the testing was commenced, the average of the three readings gives the flashing-point recorded by that particular instrument, but without either apparatus correction or thermometer correction. In the event of there being a greater difference than two degrees Fahrenheit between any two of the readings, or if the flash has occurred within eight degrees of the temperature at which the testing was commenced, the series of tests is to be rejected and a fresh series of three similarly obtained.

If, however, a flash has occurred at or below 64°F. when the test was applied in the manner above described, the next test shall be commenced 10°F. lower than the temperature at which the flash had been previously obtained, and this procedure shall be continued until the results of three consecutive tests do not show a greater difference than two degrees Fahrenheit and until a flash has not occurred in any of the three tests within eight degrees Fahrenheit of the temperature at which the test was commenced. Provided always that if at the commencement of the series of tests a flash has occurred on the first application of the test-flame at 66°F. and if a flash has also occurred on the first application of the flame in each of the three successive tests in which the test-flame is first applied at 66°F. as above directed, the testing officer shall certify that the petroleum has a flashing-point below 67°F. and the sample shall be reported as "dangerous petroleum".

If a temperature of 76°F. has been reached without a flash occurring, the application of the test-flame is to be continued at every degree rise of temperature until a temperature of 89°F. has been reached. If no flash occurs up to this point, the test shall be continued on a fresh sample as in Section III (II) (2) above.

If no flash occurs up to 120°F., the flashing-point shall be determined by the Pensky-Martens apparatus and method, as described above.

Vesting of the Funds in the Commissioners.

10. The balances existing at the end of March, nineteen hundred and thirty-six, in respect of the Indian Military Widows' and Orphans' Fund and the Superior Services (India) Family Pension Fund, and in respect of the moneys theretofore contributed under the Indian Military Service Family Pension Regulations and the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Rules shall, subject to the provisions of subsection (3) of section two hundred and seventy-three of the Act, be transferred to the appropriate Commissioners before the end of March, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine by such instalments, and with such interest, as the Secretary of State may determine. Any question as to the amount to be transferred under this paragraph to any body of Commissioners shall be decided by the Secretary of State.

11. Any sums paid under the last preceding paragraph before the commencement of Part III of the Act shall be paid out of the revenues of India, any sums paid thereunder after the commencement of Part III of the Act but before the establishment of the Federation shall be paid out of the revenues of the Governor-General in Council, and any sums paid thereunder after the establishment of the Federation shall be paid out of the revenues of the Federation.

12. The Commissioners shall invest so much of the funds respectively in their hands as is available for investment in such securities as they think fit, being either—

(a) securities in which a trustee may invest trust moneys under the powers of section one of the Trustee Act, 1925, as extended by any subsequent enactment; or

(b) the stocks, funds, bonds, mortgages, debentures or securities of any public body incorporated in the United Kingdom by or under any Act of Parliament or of the Parliament of Northern Ireland; or

(c) the bonds, mortgages, debentures, debenture or rentcharge stock of any railway, gas, electric light or power company in the United Kingdom; or

(d) the preference stock or shares of any such gas, electric light or power company which has paid a dividend on its ordinary stock or shares at a rate of not less than three per cent. during each of the five years immediately preceding the date of the investment, and may, as and when they think fit, realise, convert or otherwise deal with any such securities:

Provided that—

(i) the proviso to sub-section (1) of section two of the Trustee Act, 1925 (which restricts the purchase by trustees of securities standing at a premium), shall not apply to the Commissioners;

14. (1) The funds shall in all other respects be administered by the Secretary of State, and all pensions payable out of any of the funds shall be paid by, or by authority of, the Secretary of State, and all contributions to any of the funds received by any person shall be accounted for to the Secretary of State.

(2) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that the requirement of this paragraph that the funds shall be administered by the Secretary of State does not exempt the proper officers in India, Burma, Aden or elsewhere from the duty of collecting and accounting for the contributions, and paying the pensions, in the cases and classes of case in which contributions and pensions have heretofore been so collected and paid.

15. The Commissioners shall, as and when requested by the Secretary of State, pay to him out of the funds for which they are respectively responsible such sums as he may certify to be required by him for the purposes of the fund in question.

16. The Secretary of State shall pay over to the appropriate Commissioners all contributions to any of the funds made after the end of March, nineteen hundred and thirty-six:

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as preventing the application by, or by authority of, the Secretary of State, and with the consent of the Commissioners, of a part of any such contributions for the purpose of meeting obligations falling to be met out of the fund.

17. Notwithstanding anything in Part X of the Act or in the regulations or rules relating to any of the funds, the Secretary of State may, having obtained from an actuary a report on any of the funds, make such alterations in any pensions payable out of that fund as may appear to him after consideration of the report to be reasonably necessary in consequence of the transfer of that fund effected under this Order, including alterations in pensions granted (whether temporarily or not) before the making of the alteration.

The powers conferred on the Secretary of State by this paragraph shall be in addition to and not in derogation of, any powers otherwise conferred on him by the said regulations and rules.

19. At any time before the end of March 1937, or before the expiration of such longer period as may in special circumstances be allowed by the Secretary of State in any particular case or class of cases, any of the existing subscribers or beneficiaries may make a written objection to the Secretary of State to the vesting of the fund in which he is interested in the Commissioners.

20. In the case of any existing beneficiary who has not attained the age of twenty-one years or is of unsound mind, objection may be made as aforesaid on his behalf by his parent or guardian, or, as the case may be, by any person who satisfies the Secretary of State that he has by law authority to receive on behalf of the beneficiary any pension payable to him out of the fund:

Provided that where under section three hundred and thirty-five of the Lunacy Act, 1890, or any corresponding enactment in force outside England payments from the Fund are being made to an institution or person having the care of the beneficiary, then, if the Secretary of State is satisfied that there is no person who would apart from this proviso be entitled to make objection on behalf of the beneficiary, objection may be made as aforesaid on behalf of the beneficiary by any person who satisfies the Secretary of State that he contributes towards the expense of maintaining the beneficiary.

21. In the case of any existing subscriber who is of unsound mind, objection may be made as aforesaid on his behalf by any person who satisfies the Secretary of State that he has by law authority to make such an objection on behalf of that subscriber or that he has by law authority to receive on behalf of the subscriber any pension payable to him out of the revenues of India:

Provided that where under section three hundred and thirty-five of the Lunacy Act, 1890, or any corresponding enactment in force outside England payments are being made from the revenues of India to an institution or person having the care of the subscriber, then, if the Secretary of State is satisfied that there is no person who would apart from this proviso be entitled to make objection on behalf of the subscriber objection may be made as aforesaid on behalf of the subscriber by his wife, or, if he has no wife, by, or as the case may be, by the guardian of any child of the subscriber who may become entitled to a pension from the Fund, (so, however, that no objection shall be made by, or by the guardian of any such child without the consent of, or, as the case may be, of the guardians of, the other children who may become entitled to pensions from the Fund).

22. Where any objection is duly made as aforesaid, subsection (3) of section two hundred and seventy-three of the Act shall have effect as from the first day of April, nineteen hundred and thirty-six, in relation to the interest of the person by whom or on whose behalf the objection is made, and any necessary adjustments shall be made as respects payments made by, to or in connection with that person on or after that date.

Temporary Adaptations and Modifications of section 273.

23. As respects the period preceding the commencement of Part III of the Act, section two hundred and seventy-three of the Act shall have effect subject to the following adaptations and modifications:—

(a) for the words "the Secretary of State", where they first occur in subsection (1), there shall be substituted the words "the Secretary of State in Council";

(b) any refenence in subsection (2) or subsection (3) to the Governor-General shall be construed as a reference to the Secretary of State in Council;

24. This Order shall come into force on the date of the making thereof.

25. The date as from which, under subsection (1) of section two hundred and seventy-three of the Act, pensions payable under the Indian Military Service Family Pension Regulations and the Indian

Civil Service Family Pension Rules (being the pensions not heretofore payable out of any specific fund) are, subject to the provisions of subsection (3) of that section, to be payable out of the appropriate fund to be formed for the purposes of this Order and vested in Commissioners, shall be the date of the payment of the last instalment payable under paragraph ten of this Order; but the appropriate fund shall be debited with any payments of any such pension made before that date and after the end of March, nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

26. Anything to be done by or to the Secretary of State under this Order shall, until the commencement of Part III of the Act, be done by or to the Secretary of State in Council.

Interpretation.

27. The Interpretation Act, 1889, shall apply for the interpretation of this Order as it applies for the interpretation of an Act of Parliament, and subsection (6) of section two hundred and seventy-three of the Act shall apply with respect to this Order as it applies with respect to that section.

28. In this Order, except so far as the context otherwise requires, the expression "contributions" in relation to any of the funds includes references to any donation or fine payable under the rules or regulations relating to that fund, and references to subscribers or contributions to the funds include, in relation to the two funds directed to be formed by this Order, subscribers and contributions under the Indian Military Service Family Pension Regulations or, as the case may be, the Indian Civil Service Family Pension Rules.

29. References in this Order to the Secretary of State shall, as respects the period subsequent to the commencement of Part III of the Act, be construed as references to the Secretary of State acting with the concurrence of his advisers in accordance with the provisions of section two hundred and sixty-one of the Act.

(3) The Governor General in Council may for reasons which shall be recorded in writing cancel, suspend or endorse any certificate or licence granted under these Rules if he is satisfied that there is sufficient ground for so doing and may suspend any such certificate or licence temporarily during the investigation of any matter forming a ground for action under this sub-rule.

(2) in addition, from the mooring cable of the balloon or kite there shall be displayed at intervals of 1,000 feet measured from the said group of two lights, similar groups of two lights, one white and one red, and if the lowest group of lights is obscured by clouds, an additional group shall be displayed below the cloud base:

(3) in addition, the position of the object to which the balloon or kite is moored on the ground shall be marked by a group of three flashing lights, arranged on a horizontal plane at the apexes of a triangle approximately equilateral and measuring at least 75 feet on each side; the side of this triangle, perpendicular to the horizontal projection of the cable, shall be delimited by two red lights, the third light shall be a green light placed opposite the direction of the cable.

98. Day markings for captive balloons.—By day, the mooring cable of a captive balloon shall have attached to it at intervals of not more than 600 feet measured from the basket (or, if there is no basket, from the lowest part of the balloon) tubular streamers, not less than 8 inches in diameter and 6 feet in length, and marked with alternate bands of white and red 18 inches in width.

99. Day markings for kites.—By day, the mooring cable of a kite shall be marked, either in the manner required by rule 98 in the case of a captive balloon, or by streamers of stout paper attached to the cable at intervals of 300 feet measured from the lowest part of the kite, such streamers being not less than 30 inches in length and one foot in width in their widest part and marked with alternate bands of white and red 4 inches wide.

Airships.

100. Under way.—(1) Except as provided in rule 101 an airship when under way shall display the following lights, namely:—

(a) forward, a white light fixed so as to show forward an unbroken light visible at a distance of at least 5 miles and throughout a dihedral angle of 220° formed by two vertical planes and bisected by the plane of symmetry;

(b) on the right side, a green light fixed so as to show an unbroken light visible at a distance of at least 5 miles and throughout a dihedral angle of 110° formed by two vertical planes, of which one is parallel to the plane of symmetry and directed dead ahead, and the other is directed to the right;

(c) on the left side, a red light fixed so as to show an unbroken light visible at a distance of at least 5 miles and throughout a dihedral angle of 110° formed by two vertical planes, of which one is parallel to the plane of symmetry and directed dead ahead and the other is directed to the left;

(d) at the rear, a white light fixed so as to show astern an unbroken light visible at a distance of at least 3 miles and throughout a dihedral angle of 140° formed by two vertical planes and bisected by the plane of symmetry.

(2) In a case where, in order to comply with the provisions of sub-rule (1), a single light has to be replaced by several lights, the field of visibility of each of those lights shall be so limited that only one can be seen at a time.

101. Not under control.—(1) An airship which is under way and which is not under control, or which has voluntarily stopped its engines, or which is being towed, shall display the following lights, namely:—

(a) the forward and rear lights required by clauses (a) and (d) of sub-rule (1) of rule 100;

(b) in addition, below the airship, two red lights, one placed vertically below the other 12 feet apart, the upper light being 25 feet below the control car, and both being visible so far as practicable in all directions at a distance of not less than two miles;

(c) in addition, if making way but not otherwise, the side lights required by clauses (b) and (c) of sub-rule (1) of rule 100.

(2) By day, an airship in the circumstances mentioned in sub-rule (1) of this rule shall display two black balls or shapes, each at least 2 feet in diameter, one placed vertically below the other 12 feet apart, the upper one being 24 feet below the control car, and both being visible so far as practicable in all directions.

Where necessary in order to comply with this requirement, the said group of two black balls or shapes may be duplicated.

102. Moored.—(1) An airship when moored to a mooring mast shall display at or near the rear a white light visible, so far as practicable, in all directions at a distance of at least 3 miles.

(2) An airship, when moored to the ground or the surface of the water by a cable, shall display, forward, the white light required by clause (a) of sub-rule (1) of rule 100, and at the rear, the white light required by clause (d) of that sub-rule and in addition the airship and its mooring cable shall be lighted or marked in accordance with such of the provisions of rules 97 and 98 as are applicable in the case of a captive balloon.

(3) An airship while picking up its moorings, although considered as being under way and not being under control, shall however display only the lights specified in rule 100 until it is finally made fast.

C.—Sound Signals.

103. Fog, mist, etc.—In fog, mist, falling snow or heavy rainstorm, whether by day or night, an aircraft on the water shall make the following sound signals, namely:—

(a) If not anchored or moored, a sound at intervals of not more than two minutes, consisting of two blasts of about five seconds duration with an interval of about one second between them.

(b) If at anchor or moored, the rapid ringing of an efficient bell or gong for about five seconds at intervals of not more than one minute.

SECTION II.

GROUND MARKINGS AND SIGNALLING.

A. GROUND MARKINGS, LIGHTS AND SIGNALS ON AND IN THE VICINITY OF AERODROMES OPEN TO PUBLIC USE.

104. Ground markings.—At every land aerodrome open to public use, the boundaries of the landing area shall, by means of suitable markings, be rendered clearly visible both to aircraft in the air and to aircraft manœuvring on the landing area. In addition, a circle marking may be placed on the landing area. All obstructions existing on a landing area shall be clearly marked. In case part of the marked landing area should become unfit for use, this part shall be delimited by clearly visible markings or flags, and may, in addition, be indicated by one or more clearly visible crosses.

105. Ground signals.—(1) At every aerodrome open to public use—

(a) the direction of the wind at the landing area shall be clearly indicated by one or more of the recognised methods, e.g., conical streamers, smudge fire, etc.;

(b) if there is a landing T, it shall be used to indicate the compulsory direction for landing and taking-off, even should such direction not correspond to the direction of the wind. Normally, the T shall be so placed that the long arm lies along the direction of the wind, with the cross arm set at that end of the long arm from which the wind is blowing. In the event of there being no wind or a light irregular wind, the T shall be fixed in the direction in which the landing or departure is to be made, and the fact that it is fixed shall be signalled by the presence of a ball, mounted on a mast on the signal area and clearly visible both to aircraft in flight and to those manœuvring on the landing area.

(2) When, by way of exception, at certain aerodromes, the landing area is regarded as divided into two approximately equal zones, one for departure and the other for landing, as provided for in rule 126, this special arrangement must be indicated by a full star of five points (constituted by a regular non-convex pentagon which could be inscribed in a circle of not less than forty-five feet diameter) as shown in figure 2 in Schedule IV.

(3) When under rule 118 the special rules for air traffic prescribed in Section V are temporarily suspended, wholly or partially, in respect of a specified aerodrome such suspension shall be indicated by a red square panel, each side of which measures at least ten feet, placed horizontally as shown in figure 3 in Schedule IV.

(4) If an order issued under rule 118 prescribes among other things that circuits outside the landing area and those for taking off and landing, which are referred to in clause (b) of rule 120 and rule 124, are to be right-handed, the red square panel, prescribed in sub-rule (3) of this rule, shall, along two of its sides, be bordered by a red rectangular panel at least three feet in width, separated from the central panel by at least three feet. At the extremity of one of the rectangular panels shall be placed a red triangle so as to indicate that the direction of the circuit is right-handed as shown in figure 4 in Schedule IV. If, however, the only object of the order is that circuits should be right-handed, the red square panel shall not be displayed.

(5) When special circumstances call for a prohibition to land liable to be prolonged, use shall be made of a red square panel, placed horizontally, each side of which measures at least ten feet and the diagonals of which are covered by yellow strips at least two feet in width, arranged in the form of an X as shown in figure 5 in Schedule IV.

(6) When the bad state of the landing area or any other reason calls for the observance of certain precautions in landing, use may be made of a red square panel, placed horizontally, each side of which measures at least ten feet and one of the diagonals of which is covered by a yellow strip at least two feet in width as shown in figure 6 in Schedule IV.

(7) When a landing by means of a radioelectric guide is taking place the fact may be signalled by hoisting on a mast a yellow triangular equilateral pyramid, each side of which measures at least six feet as shown in figure 7 in Schedule IV.

(8) The signals referred to in the foregoing sub-rules shall, whenever possible, be displayed in a special part of the aerodrome selected as a signal area; by way of exception, the wind indicators and the landing T referred to in sub-rule (1) of this rule may be located elsewhere.

(9) During periods of poor visibility, the lights existing for night lighting shall be operated by day, whenever possible and in so far as necessary.

106. Ground lights.—(1) At every aerodrome open to public use and used for night flying, the following provisions shall apply during the working hours of the night service, namely:—

(a) Dangerous lights.—No lights shall be exhibited at or in the neighbourhood of an aerodrome which may endanger the safety of aircraft, whether by reason of glare, or by causing confusion with or preventing clear visual reception of the lights or signals prescribed in these rules.

(b) Aerodrome beacon.—The position of the aerodrome may be indicated by a luminous beacon.

(2) At every land aerodrome open to public use and used for night flying, the following provisions shall apply during the working hours of the night service, namely:—

(a) Lighting of obstructions.—Fixed red lights shall be exhibited—

(i) on all obstructions within the landing area which constitute a danger to aircraft in motion on the landing area;

(ii) as far as possible, on all obstructions within 1,000 yards of the boundary of the landing area and constituting a danger to aircraft approaching or leaving the aerodrome in a normal manner. In case it should be impossible to exhibit fixed red lights on such obstructions, their horizontal projection and the centre of the obstructions shall, as far as possible, be clearly indicated by synchronised red flashing or occulting lights, placed on a level with or near to the ground.

(b) Lighting of landing T and of wind indicators.—The landing T, if used, and at least one of the wind indicators shall be illuminated with fixed lighting, preferably white.

(c) Lighting of signals.—The signals displayed in the signal area shall be suitably illuminated.

(d) Lighting of landing area—

(i) The landing area or the part thereof on which landings should be made shall be illuminated by a floodlight or floodlight system during landing manœuvres;

(ii) In default, one of the following methods may be used:

First method: A line of lights spaced 150 feet apart shall be laid out on the ground, consisting of a central section of six white lights to indicate that landings should be made on the adjacent portion of the landing area and on either side of this line, with at least two green lights at one end and at least two red lights at the other end to indicate that landings should be made from the direction of the green lights towards the red lights;

Second method: Lights shall be laid out on the ground in the form of a T, the long arm of which shall be composed of at least four lights in a line not less than 250 yards in length. The light at the foot of the T shall indicate the place where the aerodyne should first make contact with the ground and the cross arm of the T shall indicate the place where it should finish its run. Landings may be made on either side of the long arm of the T but always parallel to that arm; in the event, however, of the area situated on either side of the long arm becoming obstructed, the light indicating the cross arm on that side shall be removed and landing shall be effected on the opposite side.

The direction of landing and take-off will be given by the two alternative methods referred to above; the landing T shall not, therefore, be used.

(e) Approach lighting—The most favourable sectors of approach to the landing area may be indicated by green lights.

(f) Boundary lighting—The boundary of the landing area shall be marked by fixed yellow-orange lights, normally laid out 300 feet apart:

Provided that—

(i) when there are obstructions on the boundary of the landing area, the lights serving to mark such obstructions may take the place of boundary lights;

(ii) when the boundary lights are in the form of strips, their colour may be red;

(iii) when local conditions render unavoidable the use of gas boundary lights, they may be given an intermittent character;

(iv) when the boundary of the landing area cannot be marked, only the extremities of such landing area between which aircraft may move without danger shall be indicated by fixed yellow-orange lights.

(8) At every water aerodrome open to public use and used for night flying, the provisions of sub-rule (2) shall equally apply, except in cases of obvious impossibility.

B. DISTRESS, URGENCY AND SAFETY SIGNALS.

107. (1) General.—The following general provisions shall apply to all distress, urgency and safety signals, namely:—

(a) the signals referred to in this rule may be transmitted only with the authorisation of the commander or person responsible for the aircraft;

(b) when these signals are sent by radiotelegraphy or radiotelephony, the group or spoken expression shall be sent three times, and followed by the group DE and the call sign, also sent three times, of the station which sends it. In the case of "safety" messages, the frequency to be employed is that for "distress" messages.

(2) Distress Signals.—When an aircraft is threatened by grave and imminent danger and requests immediate assistance, the following signals shall be used or displayed, either together or separately, before the sending of a message, namely:—

(a) by radiotelegraphy—

the signal . . . — — — . . . [See Note (1)].

(b) by radiotelephony—

the spoken expression "MAYDAY" (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the expression "m'aider").

(c) by visual signalling—

(i) the signal . . . — — — . . . with signalling apparatus;

(ii) a succession of red pyrotechnical lights fired at short intervals;

(iii) the two-flag signal corresponding to the letters NC of the International Code of Signals [See Note (2)];

(iv) the distant signal, consisting of a square flag having, either above or below it, a ball or anything resembling a ball [See Note (2)].

(d) by sound signalling—

(i) the signal . . . — — — . . . with any sound apparatus;

(ii) a continuous sounding with any sound apparatus [See Note (2)].

Note (1).—When the signal specified in clause (a) above is sent by radiotelegraphy on 500 kc/s (600 m.), it shall, when possible, in order to be received by automatic maritime apparatus, be followed by the automatic alarm signal consisting of a series of twelve dashes of four seconds each, separated by an interval of one second.

Note (2).—The signals specified in (iii) and (iv) of clause (c) and (ii) of clause (d) above are normally for use by seaplanes on the surface of the water, but they may also be used by aircraft in the air.

(3) Urgency Signals.—(a) When an aircraft wishes to give notice of difficulties which compel it to land without requiring immediate assistance, the following signals shall be used, either together or separately, before the sending of a message, namely:—

(i) by radiotelegraphy—

the group PAN, the letters of which must be well separated that the signals A N may not be transformed into one signal P;

(ii) by radiotelephony—

the spoken expression PAN (corresponding to the French pronunciation of the word "panne");

in cases where, owing to the rapidity of the manœuvres to be executed, the aircraft is unable to transmit the intended message by radiotelegraphy or radiotelephony, the signal PAN not followed by a message retains this meaning;

(iii) by visual signalling—

by day: a succession of white pyrotechnical lights;

by night: a succession of white pyrotechnical lights, or a succession of short and intermittent flashes with the navigation lights.

(b) When an aircraft has a very urgent message to transmit concerning its own safety, or that of an aircraft, ship or other vehicle, or the safety of any person on board or within sight, the following signals shall be used, either together or separately, before the sending of the message. As a general rule they are addressd to a specific authority.

(i) by radiotelegraphy—

the group XXX;

the letters of each group and the successive groups shall be clearly separated from each other;

(ii) by visual signalling—

either a succession of green pyrotechnical lights; or a succession of green flashes with signalling apparatus.

(4) Safety Signals.—When an aircraft is about to transmit a message concerning the safety of navigation or giving important meteorological warnings, the following signals shall be used, either together or separtely, before the sending of a message, namely:—

(a) by radiotelegraphy—

the letters of each group and the successive groups shall be clearly separated from each other.

(b) by radiotelephony—

the French word "SECURITE" (to which correspond in English pronunciation the syllabus SAY-CURE-E-TAY).

(c) by visual signalling—

International visual signalling procedure, by signalling apparatus or flags.

C. OTHER SIGNALS TO OR FROM AIRCRAFT.

108. At aerodromes open to public use—

(1) By day and by night, when there is an officer controlling the traffic, he shall, except as permitted by sub-rule (2) of this rule, use the following visual signals, namely:—

(a) to authorise movement on the landing area, but excluding authorisation to take-off, he shall direct at the aircraft an intermittent white luminous beam;

(b) to authorise taking-off, he shall direct at the aircraft a continuous white luminous beam;

(c) to prohibit taking-off or any movement on the landing area, he shall direct at the aircraft an intermittent red luminous beam;

The signals in this sub-rule may be preceded by the last three letters of the registration group of the aircraft to which the signal is addressed; these three letters shall be sent in the International Morse Code, by using a luminous beam of the same colour as the signal which is to be sent.

(2) By day, when there is on the landing area an officer controlling the traffic, he may use the following signals, namely:—

(a) to authorise movement on the landing area, but excluding authorisation to take-off, he shall wave a small white flag in the direction to be followed;

(b) to authorise taking-off, he shall lower a small white flag in the direction of taking-off;

(c) to prohibit taking-off or movement towards the taking-off point, he shall raise a small red flag;

(d) to prohibit landing, he shall wave a small red flag vertically above his head.

(3) An aircraft wishing to land at night, without being compelled to do so, on an aerodrome having a ground control, shall, before landing, ask permission by a signal made either by radiotelegraphy or radiotelephony or by means of a lamp or a projector, the use of the navigation lights for this purpose not being permissible.

The visual signal, sent by International Morse Code, shall be composed of the last three letters of the registration group of the aircraft; this signal shall be repeated for as long as may be necessary.

The reply will be given from the ground to the aircraft either by radiotelegraphy or radiotelephony or by visual signal, it being understood that when permission has been asked by visual signal the reply shall always be by visual signal. The visual signal shall consist of a repetition of the same three-letter sign made with the signalling lights of the aerodrome.

These signalling lights shall be constituted either by a group of lights arranged on a horizontal plane at the apexes of an equilateral triangle, each side of which measures from one to three yards, or by a luminous beam directed at the aircraft.

The colour green shall be used to give permission to land and the colour red to prohibit landing.

109. Signals for aircraft not to land.—(1) At every aerodrome, the firing of a red pyrotechnical light or the display of a red flare from the ground, whether by day or by night and notwithstanding any previous permission, shall be taken as an instruction to aircraft in flight that they are not to land for the moment and to aircraft manœuvring on the landing area that they are to stop moving.

(2) At aerodromes provided with the triangular device provided for in sub-rule (3) of rule 108, the emission by such device of intermittent red lights shall, whether by day or by night and notwithstanding any previous permission, instruct aircraft in flight that they are not to land for the moment.

110. Signals for aircraft to land.—To require an aircraft to land, the following signals shall be used, namely:—

(a) by day: a series of projectiles discharged at intervals of ten seconds, each showing on bursting black smoke.

(b) by night: a series of projectiles discharged at intervals of ten seconds, showing on bursting white lights or stars.

In addition, if it is necessary to distinguish amongst several the aircraft which is to land, an intermittent white luminous beam shall be directed at that aircraft.

Provided that, when the authority who desires to give the order to land is able to establish a radioelectric communication with the aircraft, this order may be given by using the means of communication established.

111. Warning signal for prohibited areas.—To warn an aircraft that it is in the vicinity of a prohibited area and should change its course, the following signals shall be used, namely:—

(a) by day: a series of projectiles discharged at intervals of ten seconds, each showing on bursting orange smoke;

(b) by night: a series of projectiles discharged at intervals of ten seconds, showing on bursting orange lights or stars.

Provided that, when the authority who desires to prescribe the change of course referred to in this rule is able to establish a radio-electric communication with the aircraft, this order may be given by using the means of communication established.

SECTION III.

GENERAL RULES FOR AIR TRAFFIC.

112. General.—(1) Subject to the provisions of sub-rule (6) of this rule and clause (1) of rule 116, mechanically driven aerodynes shall always give way to non-mechanically-driven aerodynes and to aerostats, and mechanically-driven aerostats to non-mechanically-driven aerostats and aerodynes.

(2) An airship which is under way and which is not under control (or which has voluntarily stopped its engines) shall, for the application of the rules in Section III, be classed as a free balloon.

113. Risk of collision.—(1) When circumstances permit, an aircraft can ascertain risk of collision with another aircraft by carefully watching the successive compass bearings and angles of elevation of the latter. It shall consider that risk of collision with this other aircraft exists if neither the bearing nor the angle of elevation changes appreciably and if the distance between the two aircraft diminishes.

The term "risk of collision" includes all risk of accident due to undue proximity of other aircraft.

(2) Every aircraft which is required by these Rules to give way to another to avid collision, shall keep a safe distance, having regard to the circumstances of the case.

(3) While observing the provisions relative to risk of collision contained in sub-rules (1) and (2), a mechanically-driven aircraft must always manœuvre according to the provisions of sub-rules (4) and (8), as soon as it is apparent that, if it pursued its course, it would not pass clear of another aircraft.

(4) When two mechanically-driven aircraft are meeting end on or nearly end on, each shall, without prejudice to the application of the provisions of sub-rule (1), alter its course to the right.

(5) Subject to the application of the provisions of sub-rule (1) of of this rule and sub-rule (3) of rule 116, when two mechanically-driven aircraft are on courses which cross, the aircraft which has the other on its own right side shall keep out of the way of the other.

(6) An aircraft overtaking any other shall keep out of the way of the overtaken aircraft by altering its own course to the right, and must not pass by diving.

Every aircraft coming up with another aircraft from any direction more than 110 degrees from ahead of the latter, i.e., in such a position with reference to the aircraft which it is overtaking that at night it would be unable to see either of that aircraft's side lights, shall be deemed to be an overtaking aircraft, and no subsequent alteration of the bearing between the two aircraft shall make the overtaking aircraft a crossing aircraft within the meaning of these rules, or relieve it of the duty of keeping clear of the overtaken aircraft until it is finally past and clear.

As by day the overtaking aircraft cannot always know with certainty whether it is forward or abaft the direction mentioned above from the other aircraft, it should, if in doubt, assume that it is an overtaking aircraft and keep out of the way.

(7) Every aircraft which is obliged by the rules in Part XII to keep out of the way of another aircraft shall, if the circumstances of the case admit, avoid passing over or under the other, or crossing ahead of it.

(8) Where, by any of the rules in Part XII, one of two aircraft is to keep out of the way, the other shall keep its course and speed. When, however, in consequence of thick weather or any other cause, the aircraft having the right of way finds itself so close that collision cannot be avoided by the action of the giving-way aircraft alone, it shall take such action as will best aid to avert collision.

(9) Every aircraft in a cloud, fog, mist or other conditions of bad visibility, shall proceed with caution, having careful regard to the existing circumstances.

(10) Every aircraft flying beneath clouds shall always do so, so far as it is safe and practicable, at such a distance below the clouds as will enable it readily to see and be seen.

114. Risk of collision on air traffic routes.—In order to obviate the increased risk of collision which exists on air traffic routes the following provisions shall be observed by aerodynes and airships when flying on or in the vicinity of such routes, namely:—

(1) An aircraft flying by compass along the straight line (rhumb line) joining two points on an air traffic route in common use, shall keep such line at least 1,000 yards on its left.

(2) An aircraft following, either an officially recognised air traffic route, or a route frequented by aircraft and indicated on the ground by a line of landmarks such as a road, railway, river, canal, coastline, etc., shall keep such route at least 300 yards on its left.

(3) An aircraft shall not fly keeping on its right any of the lines or routes referred to in rule 114, except at a distance therefrom sufficient to avoid aircraft following such lines or routes in accordance with the said rule.

(4) An aircraft crossing one of the lines or routes referred to in rule 114 shall cross it at right angles as rapidly as possible.

(5) In the case of pre-arranged flights in group formation, the aircraft of the leader of the group shall lead the flight in such a manner that every aircraft in the group can comply with rule 114.

115. Position of pilot.—To facilitate the application of the rules for air traffic contained in this Part, the pilot of a mechanically-driven aerodyne shall, save in exceptional circumstances, be placed either in the plane of symmetry of the aerodyne or on the left-hand side of such plane.

SECTION IV.

SPECIAL RULES FOR AIR TRAFFIC ON AND IN THE VICINITY OF ALL AERODROMES.

116. Special rules.—The following provisions shall apply on and in the vicinity of all aerodromes, namely:—

(1) Aircraft about to land on an aerodrome shall be given free way.

(2) An aircraft about to take off shall not attempt to do so until there is no risk of collision with another aircraft.

(3) In the case of two mechanically-driven aerodynes approaching an aerodrome for the purpose of landing, the aerodyne flying at the greater height shall be responsible for avoiding the aerodyne at the lower height, but the latter shall, if the contingency arises, comply with the provisions of sub-rule (6) of rule 113.

SECTION V.

SPECIAL RULES FOR AIR TRAFFIC ON AND IN THE VICINITY OF AERODROMES OPEN TO PUBLIC USE.

A. GENERAL.

117. Extent of application.—(1) The provisions of Section V shall apply on and in the vicinity of aerodromes open to public use. They concern only land and water aerodromes for mechanically-driven aerodynes, which are designated in the present Section by the single word "aerodynes".

(2) Non-mechanically-driven aerodynes on and in the vicinity of aerodromes open to public use shall comply with the provisions of Section V as far as possible.

118. Exemptions.—The Governor General in Council may by special order in writing in this behalf temporarily suspend the application of all or any of the provisions of Section V with reference to any aerodromes in British India which is open to public use. Where any such order is for the time being in force with respect to any aerodrome the suspension shall be indicated by the appropriate signals provided for in sub-rule (3) of rule 105.

119. Neutral zones.—At land aerodromes, a neutral zone, situated along the perimeter of the landing area and at the approaches to the hangars, may be set apart for aerodynes manœuvring on the ground.

B. FLIGHT OVER OR IN THE VICINITY OF THE LANDING AREA.

120. Minimum Flying altitude.—Subject to any special local regulations which may exist:

(a) flight over a landing area at a lower height than 2,000 feet is prohibited for aerodynes, save in the case of a departure or landing.

(b) every aerodyne flying outside a landing area at a distance of less than 2,000 yards from the nearst point of such area shall, unless it is flying at a greater height than 2,000 feet, keep the landing area on its left.

121. Aerial acrobatics.—Aerodynes are prohibited from engaging in aerial acrobatics in the vicinity of aerodromes, at a distance of less than two miles from the nearest point of the perimeter of the aerodrome, unless they are flying at a greater height than 6,000 feet.

122. Landings by radioelectric guide.—When an aerodyne is about to land by means of a radioeletric guide, other aerodynes, in order to avoid collision, must conform to any local rules in force which may be applicable or, in default of such rules, fly as low as possible below the clouds.

123. Fixed balloons and kites.—No fixed balloon or kite shall be elevated in the vicinity of an aerodrome without a special authorisation.

C. RULES TO BE OBSERVED FOR DEPARTURES AND LANDINGS.

124. Circuits.—An aerodyne starting from or about to land on an aerodrome shall make a circuit or partial circuit and the turning shall be made clear of the landing area and shall be left-handed (anti-clockwise), so that during such circuit the landing area shall always be on its left.

As an exception, the turning shall be right-handed when the signal indicated in sub-rule (4) of rule 105 is displayed.

125. Direction of take-off or landing.—(1) Every aerodyne taking off from or landing at an aerodrome shall do so upwind, except when the natural conditions of the aerodrome do not permit. If, however, there is a landing T as provided for in clause (b) of sub-rule (1) of rule 105, or a line of lights as provided for in sub-clause (ii) of clause (d) of sub-rule (2) of rule 106, the aerodyne shall take off or land in the direction indicated by this T (i.e., by following the direction of the long arm of the T towards the cross arm of that T) or by the line of lights.

(2) Landings shall be preceded by a descent in a straight line, commencing at least 300 yards outside the perimeter of the landing area.

(3) Every aerodyne landing at an aerodrome shall leave clear on its left any aerodyne which has already landed or is already landing, or which is taking off or about to take off.

(4) Every aerodyne taking off from an aerodrome shall leave clear on its left any aerodyne which is already taking off.

(5) In observing the provisions of rule 125, every aerodyne, when landing or taking off, shall leave a reasonable space on its right for other aerodynes to land or take off.

(6) At an aerodrome, taking off or landing simultaneously by two or more aerodynes, unless pre-arranged, is prohibited.

(7) For the purposes of rule 125, two or more aerodynes taking off or landing simultaneously by pre-arrangement shall be regarded as a single aerodyne.

126. Zones for landings and departures.—(1) By way of exception, at certain aerodromes, the landing area may be regarded as divided into two approximately equal zones, by a vertical plane bearing in the direction of departure and landing defined in sub-rule (1) of rule 125. For an observer facing in the direction towards which departures and landings are to be made, the zone on the right will be the one reserved for landings and the zone on the left the one reserved for departures. This special arrangement must be indicated by the signal provided for in sub-rule (2) of rule 105.

(2) Every aerodyne landing at one of these aerodromes shall do so in conformity with the provisions of sub-rules (1) and (2) of rule 125, as far as possible to the left in the zone reserved for that purpose, but leaving clear on its left any other aerodyne which has already landed or which is landing.

(3) Every aerodyne taking off from one of these aerodromes shall do so in conformity with the provisions of sub-rule (1) of rule 125, as far as possible to the left in the zone reserved for that purpose, but leaving clear on its left any other aerodynes which are already taking off.

127. Take-offs.—On land aerodromes having a ground control, no aerodyne having proceeded on to the landing area with the intention of taking off shall take off until it has received permission to do so by the signals prescribed in clause (b) of sub-rule (1), and clause (b) of sub-rule (2), of rule 108.

D. RULES TO BE OBSERVED FOR MANOEUVRES ON THE GROUND.

128. (1) Land aerodromes.—Every aerodyne moving on the ground in the landing area shall normally do so in the direction of landing. It may, however, in order to shorten its course, cross the landing area to reach its take-off point or the boundary, provided that, in the course of such movement, turns are always made to the left, that it gives free way to every aircraft leaving or landing, and that it conforms to the provisions of sub-rules (4) and (8) of rule 113.

(2) Water aerodromes.—The rules for land aerodromes contained in sub-rule (1) of this rule apply equally to water aerodromes, subject however to the provisions contained in rule 129.

(3) On aerodromes having a ground control, in addition to the observance of the provisions of sub-rules (1) and (2) of this rule, no aerodyne shall proceed on to the landing area until it has received permission to do so by the signal prescribed in clause (a) of sub-rule (1), or clause (a) of sub-rule (2), of rule 108.

SECTION VI.

RULES RELATING TO AIRCRAFT ON THE SURFACE OF THE WATER.

129. Regulations for preventing collisions at sea.—Every aircraft manœuvring under its own power on the water shall conform to the regulations for preventing collisions at sea, and for the purposes of these regulations shall be deemed to be a steam-vessel:

Provided that—

(a) in conforming with the above-mentioned regulations, it shall be borne in mind that steam-vessels in narrow channels are not able to manœuvre so as to avoid collision with aircraft;

(b) the aircraft shall carry only the lights specified in Section I of this part, and not those prescribed for steam-vessels in the regulations for preventing collisions at sea; it shall use the sound signals specified in the above-mentioned regulations only as specified in rule 103 and clause (d) of sub-rule (2) of rule 107; and it shall not be deemed to hear any sound signals.

132. Neglect in the use of lights or signals, etc.—Nothing in this Part shall exonerate any aircraft, or the owner, pilot or crew thereof, from the consequences of any neglect in the use of lights or signals, or of any neglect to keep a proper lookout, or of the neglect of any precaution which may be required by the ordinary practice of the air, or by the special circumstances of the case.

133. Special orders relative to navigation of aircraft in the immediate vicinity of an aerodrome.—Nothing in this Part shall interfere with the operation of any special rule or rules approved by the Governor General in Council and published relative to navigation of aircraft in the immediate vicinity of any aerodrome or other place, and it shall be obligatory on all owners, pilots, or crews of aircraft to obey such rules.

PART XIII.—GENERAL.

138. General power to exempt.—The Governor General in Council may by general or special order in writing exempt any aircraft or class of aircraft or any person or class of persons from the operation of these rules, either wholly or partially, subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in such order.

139. Penalties.—(1) Any person contravening any of these rules shall, where no punishment is provided for such contravention in the Indian Aircraft Act, 1934 (XXII of 1934), be punishable to the extent laid down in Schedule VI to these rules.

(2) It shall be a defence to any proceedings for contravention of or failure to comply with, these rules if the contravention or failure is proved to have been due to accident, stress of weather or other unavoidable cause; and it shall be a defence to any proceedings under these rules against the owner, hirer, operator, pilot or commander of an aircraft that the alleged contravention took place without his actual fault or privity.

SCHEDULE II.

(See rule 41.)

Proofs of Competency, Tests and Examinations for the Issue and Renewal of Licences to Aircraft Personnel.

Personnel.

The qualifications of which proofs are required from applicants for licences or renewal of licences are as set out below :—

SECTION A.—PRIVATE PILOT'S LICENCE ("A" LICENCE) (FLYING MACHINES).

1. Flying Experience.—An applicant for the grant of a licence or the renewal of a licence shall be required to produce evidence or having carried out, during the six months immediately preceding the date of the application, not less than five hours solo flying.

2. Flying Tests.—(1) An applicant for the grant of a licence shall be required to carry out the following tests to the satisfaction of the examiners:—

(a) Tests for altitude and gliding flight: Two flights each finishing with a glide, the engines being completely throttled down at not less than 2,000 feet above the landing area. The landings shall be made without reopening the throttle and within 150 yards of a point fixed beforehand by the official examiners of the test.

(b) Test of skill: A flight around two posts (or buoys) situated 500 yards apart making a series of five figure-of-eight turns, each turn reaching one of the two posts (or buoys). This flight shall be made at an altitude of not more than 600 feet above the ground (or water) without touching the ground (or water). The landing shall be effected by:—

(i) finally closing the throttle of the engine at latest when the aircraft touches the ground (or water);

(ii) finally stopping the flying machine without the use of brakes within a distance of 50 yards from a point fixed by the candidate before starting.

(c) Spinning test: A left hand and right hand spin. During this test the examiner shall be on board. The test shall be undertaken at such a height that normal flight is resumed after the spin at a height of not less than 2,000 feet above the ground.

(2) An applicant for the renewal of a licence who has not had the recent flying experience laid down in paragraph 1 of this Section shall carry out the following tests to the satisfaction of the examiner:—

(a) Test of skill: Three figure of eight turns in accordance with sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph.

(b) Landing test: Three landings, finally stopping the aircraft on each occasion without the use of brakes within a distance of 50 yards from a point fixed by the applicant before starting.

(3) An applicant for the addition to his licence of a different type of aircraft may be required to carry out any of the foregoing tests and shall normally be required to carry out the landing test detailed in clause (b) of sub-paragraph (2).

3. Technical Examination.—An applicant for the grant of a licence shall be required to pass, to the satisfaction of the examiners, an examination in the following subjects:—

(a) Rules as to Lights and Signals; General Rules for Air Traffic; Special Rules for Air Traffic on and in the vicinity of aerodromes open to Public use.

(b) International Air Legislation, with particular reference to the obligations of a pilot in international flights.

(c) General knowledge of, in so far as they affect the responsibilities of a pilot the rules made under the Indian Aircraft Act, 1934 (Act XXII of 1934), and Notices to Airmen.

4. Medical Examination.—(1) The medical examination shall be carried out by a medical practitioner who possesses qualifications entitling him to inclusion in the Medical Register of Great Britain, and who may be the applicant's usual medical attendant. Such examination shall be conducted in accordance with such form as may be prescribed by the Governor General in Council and a copy of that form, completed as required, shall be forwarded by the medical officer to the Director of Civil Aviation, Simla/Delhi, by whom copies of the form will be supplied on demand.

(2) The medical examination shall be based upon the following requirements of mental and physical fitness:—

(a) Good family and personal history, with particular reference to nervous stability, as to which information shall be given in a statement made and signed by the applicant and satisfactory to the medical examiner.

(b) General surgical examination.—The applicant must neither suffer from any wound or injury nor have undergone any operation, nor possess any abnormality, congenital or acquired, which might interfere with the safe handling of a private flying machine under ordinary conditions. Palpation of the abdomen and abdominal viscera, particularly the pyloric, vesicular duodenal and appendicular regions, whenever it reveals any swelling or distinct pain, must be completed by a radioscopic and radiographic examination.

Any anatomical lesion in the walls of any part whatever of the digestive tube, any stricture of its calibre, any calculus or foreign body, any peritoneal lesion, established by clinical or laboratory examinations, will entail rejection. Exception may be made for spasmodic strictures not accompanied by other troubles and for ptoses compensated by a good abdominal musculature.

An applicant who has undergone a surgical intervention in the biliary passages or the digestive tube, except appendicitis, involving a total or partial excision or a diversion of any of these organs, shall be declared unfit unless (i) a period of two years has elapsed since the surgical intervention and the effects of the operation are not considered liable to cause sudden incapacity in the air, or (ii) an attestation made by a surgeon, having knowledge of the nature of the disease which necessitated the operation, certifies that no immediate or future consequences are to be feared.

Diseases of the liver (including those of the biliary passages) and of the pancreas shall in cases where it is deemed necessary be verified by laboratory examination, particularly by radiography as well as by an examination of the blood and of the urine, and shall entail rejection only if they afford indication of the existence of a calculus, tumour or lesion involving a persistent impairment of function of these organs.

(c) General Medical Examination.—The applicant must not suffer from any disease or disability which renders him liable suddenly to become incompetent in the management of aircraft. He must possess heart, lungs and nervous system in a state to withstand the effects of altitude. He must be free from kidney disease, and must not present any clinical sign of syphilis, nor have any cardiac lesion.

(d) Eye Examination.—The applicant must possess, with correction by glasses if necessary, a visual acuity equal to at least 70 per cent. of the normal visual acuity for each eye taken separately. Visual acuity shall be measured by means of standard test types (optotypes) powerfully illuminated in such manner that the light does not shine directly into the eyes of the examinee. Binocular vision, ocular poise, ocular mobility, the field of vision of each eye and colour perception must be normal. With regard to colour perception, a candidate suffering from daltonism may however be accepted under the following conditions:—

(i) if he is unable to distinguish pigmentary colours but is able to distinguish the coloured lights used in air navigation, his licence is rendered valid both for flight by night and for flight by day;

(ii) if he is unable to distinguish either pigmentary colours or the coloured lights used in air navigation, his licence is rendered valid only for flight by day, that is to say, between sunrise and unset.

(e) Ear Examination.—The middle ear must be healthy. The applicant must possess an auditory acuity not less than that corresponding with the perception of the whispered voice at one metre. The vestibular mechanism must be intact and not hyper-sensitive. It must be equal on both sides.

(f) Nose, Throat and Mouth Examination.—The applicant must possess free tubular air entry on both sides:

Provided that a person who does not satisfy the whole of the above medical requirements may, at the discretion of the Governor General in Council, be accepted, so far as such requirements are concerned, as eligible for the renewal of a licence, or for the issue of a licence if he has previously been found medically fit for flying:

Provided also that a person who does not satisfy all the above medical requirements may, at the discretion of the Governor General in Council, be accepted as eligible for the issue of a licence subject to such limitations as the Governor General in Council may impose and on the condition that the licence shall in no case be valid for flight outside India.

(3) The medical examination shall take place before the commencement of flying instruction in the case of an application for the issue of a licence, and, in the case of an application for renewal of a licence, not earlier than 15 days before the date of expiry of the validity of the licence.

(4) Every applicant who presents himself to undergo the medical examination required for the issue or renewal of a licence must furnish to the medical examiner a declaration signed by him stating whether he has previously undergone such a medical examination, and with what result. A false declaration shall render the applicant liable to the cancellation of any licence issued or renewed to him as the result of the examination.

SECTION B.—PILOT'S "A—1" LICENCE (FLYING MACHINES).

1. Flying experience.—(1) An applicant for the original endorsement of a licence shall be required to produce evidence of having carried out during the two years preceding the date of application not less than 100 hours solo flying (including not less than 30 landings) of which not less than 15 hours shall have been performed during the preceding six months, and of which not less than 25 hours shall consist of cross country flights:

Provided that, except in a case where the Governor General in Council is satisfied that the experience of the applicant as a pilot is sufficiently long and varied as to constitute equivalent experience, an applicant for the endorsement of his licence in respect of a type of flying machine fitted with two or more engines, shall be required to produce evidence of having carried out not less than 10 hours flying on a multi-engined flying machine either as first pilot or as second pilot.

(2) An applicant for the renewal of the endorsement of his licence shall be required to produce evidence of having carried out during the preceding six months not less than 10 hours solo flying.

(g) Elementary Meteorology.

(2) The examination in flying machines and engines shall have reference to the particular types of flying machines or engines which are to be endorsed on the licence. The applicant may be required to undergo a further examination with reference to other types of flying machines and engines before the licence is endorsed for such other types.

(3) An applicant who fails to pass in any of the groups shall be permitted to reappear not more than twice for examination in those groups:

Provided that an applicant who does not pass in all groups of the technical examination within a period of six months from the date of the first examination shall be required to undergo the complete examination again.

4. Medical Examination.—(1) The medical examination shall be conducted by medical officers specially approved for the purpose by the Governor General in Council, and shall be based on the following requirements of mental and physical fitness:—

(a) Preliminary: The applicant must have the complete use of his four limbs, must not be completely deprived of the use of either eye and must be free from any active or latent, acute or chronic, medical or surgical, disability, or infection. He must be free from any injury or wound which would entail any degree of functional incapacity which might interfere with the safe handling of aircraft at any altitude even in the case of prolonged or difficult flight. He must be completely free from hernia, must not suffer from any detectable sensory lesion, and must be free from a history of morbid mental or nervous trouble.

The applicant will be questioned concerning his family and personal history.

(b) Examination of the Nervous system: The examination of the nervous system of the applicant shall comprise a full inquiry into family and personal history. The information obtained shall be given in a statement made and signed by the applicant and accompanied, if possible, by a certificate in regard especially to losses of consciousness, fits and convulsions of all kinds, from the applicant's ordinary medical adviser or a responsible person who has known him for a long time. This statement and this certificate must be such as to satisfy the examining medical officer. The applicant must not present any mental or trophic impairment, pathological tremor, or presumptive evidence of latent epilepsy. Motility, sensibility, tendinous, cutaneous and pupillary reflexes, co-ordination of movements and cerebellar functions, must be normal. An exception may be made for local peripheral trouble due to accidental section of a nerve branch.

Fractures of the cranium involving the internal table of the cranial box, even without apparent impairment, will entail temporary unfitness during a period of two years from the date of the fracture. Any presumed nervous syphilis will entail rejection, unless the non-existence of such an impairment is proved by an examination of the blood and an examination of the cerebrospinal fluid, made with the consent of the applicant.

(c) General surgical examination.—The requirements of this examination shall be the same as those laid down in clause (b) of sub-paragraph (2) of paragraph 4 of Section A for an applicant for a Pilot's "A" licence, with the addition that the applicant must neither suffer from any wound or injury, nor have undergone any operation, nor possess any abnormality, congenital or acquired, which might interfere with the safe handling of a flying machine at any altitude even in the case of prolonged or difficult flight.

(d) General Medical Examination.—The applicant must not suffer from any disease or disability which renders him liable suddenly to become incompetent in the management of aircraft. His muscular power must be adequate for handling of the types of aircraft he will have to pilot or the apparatus he is to use. He must not have any signs of aneurism of the large arterial trunks, nor have any cardiac lesion, even if well compensated; the heart must be normal, with normal function, and only respiratory arrhythmia, increase of pulse rate from excitement of exercise and a general slow pulse not associated with auriculo-ventricular dissociation will be allowed. The applicant must not suffer from any acute disability of the lungs, nor possess any cicatricial lesion of the lungs, and must be free from tuberculosis capable of being diagnosed by the usual clinical methods, from trace-bronchial disease of the glands, and from pulmonary emphysema, even if slight. However, with regard to the maintenance of the applicant's efficiency, pulmonary emphysema will entail rejection only when the pulmonary capacity falls below three and half litres at rest after full exhalation and inhalation and when the duration of the breath holding falls at rest below fifty seconds, or only forty seconds if the candidate is less than 5 feet or is of the female sex. In addition, each examination shall include a radioscopic record in doubtful clinical cases. When the examination of the spleen and of the ganglionic tracts reveals hypertrophy of these organs, the candidate shall be declared unfit unless a hematological examination has shown that it is not a case of an original impairment of the hemotopoietic organs. Hemoglobinary, hemophily and purpuras shall also entail rejection, unless hematological examination shows that it is a case of only transitory impairment. The applicant must not present any signs of organic disease of the kidneys; these latter must be insensitive to palpation and of normal size. Renal ptosis shall entail rejection; this rule, however, shall not apply as regards the maintenance of efficiency if no functional trouble is involved. The urine must not contain any pathological element. Affections of the urinary passages and of the genital organs, even blennorrhoea, may entail temporary or definite unfitness, an exception being allowed as regards the maintenance of efficiency in the case of tuberculous orchi-epididymitis in its mild and localised form.

Applicants of the female sex must present a normal uterus and appendages. Cases in which surgical intervention has taken place shall be considered individually. 4. Any flight, of which prior notice is given to the Aerodrome Officer, and which is undertaken solely for the purpose of ascertaining the serviceability in the air of the engine or engines, air frame or equipment of the aircraft flown, shall be deemed to be a test flight and shall be exempt from the levy of a landing fee.

9. All charges for landing shall be paid either at the time of, or immediately after, the use of the landing ground.

10. For housing purposes, the area of an aircraft shall be calculated as the product of the span or overall width and the length of the aircraft in the condition in which it is housed:

Provided that, with the approval of the aerodrome authority, it shall not be necessary to fold the supporting surfaces of a flying machine in order to obtain a reduction of the housing fee when there is space available and the period of housing will not exceed 24 hours.

11. 50 per cent. of the standard housing fees shall be charged for mooring aircraft in the open, but this charge shall be made only after an aircraft has been left on the aerodrome for a period of not less than six hours.

12. All charges for housing and mooring other than daily charges shall be paid in advance. When housing space which has been paid for in advance is not used, the space may be used for the housing of other aircraft, and no refund shall be made to the lessee unless he is prevented by the housing of other aircraft from obtaining accommodation for his aircraft.

13. Special rates for long periods may be fixed, on application to the Director of Civil Aviation, in cases in which a number of aircraft are housed or where extensive use is made of facilities over a long period.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to continue for a further period of one year certain duties and taxes imposed under the Indian Finance Act, 1936, which would otherwise cease to have effect from the 1st April, 1937 ; and to increase the import and excise duties on silver and sugar.

2. Clause 2 provides for the continuance for a further period of one year of the existing provisions regarding salt duty. The duty of Rs. 1-4-0 per maund on salt remains liable to the additional duty imposed under section 5 of the Indian Finance (Supplementary and Extending) Act, 1931.

3. Clause 3 provides for the increase in the excise duty on khandsari sugar from 10 annas per cwt. to Rs. 1-5 per cwt. and on sugar, other than khandsari or palmyra, from Rs. 1-5 per cwt. to Rs. 2 per cwt.

4. Clause 4 provides for the increase in the import duty—

(1) on sugar from Rs. 9-1 per cwt. to the rate at which excise duty is for the time being leviable on sugar, other than khandsari or palmyra, plus Rs. 7-4 per cwt. and

(2) on silver from 2 annas an ounce to 3 annas an ounce.

5. Clause 5 provides for the increase in the excise duty on silver corresponding to the increase in the import duty.

6. Clause 6 provides for the continuance for a further period of one year of the present inland postage rates with the following alterations :—

(1) Book, Pattern and Sample Packets.—The present rate is nine pies for the first five tolas and six pies for every additional five tolas. It is proposed to reduce the rate to six pies for the first 2½ tolas and three pies for every additional 2½ tolas.

(2) Parcels.—It is proposed to eliminate the present rate of 2 annas for parcels weighing up to 20 tolas, so that all parcels weighing 40 tolas or less will be charged 4 annas.

7. Clause 7 provides for the continuance for a further period of one year of the existing rates of income-tax and super-tax.

8. The reasons for making the above changes have been fully explained in my budget speech.
